FARTS and PRINCES

ASSHOLE OF THE MONTH

Sometimes cleanliness is next to godliness, but not all of the time. Compulsive scrubbing of the exterior just as often indicates an ungodly rot and filth oozing out from the interior, as is the case of HUSTLER Magazine's spotless Asshole of the Month for 1994's Holiday Issue, H. Wayne Huizenga.

In the modern world, the process of nostalgia has speeded up to the point where the good old days are now as recent as five years ago. Even a ten-year-old child can remember a far more innocent era, a time of diversity, choice and promise, an age when every second city block of the urban landscape was not despoiled by a Blockbuster Video facade.

Wayne Huizenga, a retired garbage hauler, bought 35 percent of Blockbuster Video in 1987. At that time, the chain consisted of 20 outlets, all confined within the borders of the state of Texas. Under Huizenga, who proved to be even better at distributing trash than he had been at carting it away, the Blockbuster cells spread like a cancer. The country is now spotted with 4,000-plus Blockbuster outbreaks, with new purulent-yellow Blockbuster storefronts erupting somewhere in the world at the rate of one a day. Judging from the persistence of similar plagues, particularly in the hamburger arena, there is no antidote to the Blockbuster epidemic.

To venture into a Blockbuster outlet is to step into a crucible of the so-called free world's repressive past and its totalitarian future. The chipper clerks in their Stepford kids' uniforms of oxford-cloth blue shirts and chino pants have stepped straight out of Gap Nation. One of Blockbuster's slogans is "Wow! What a difference." Their most distinguishing characteristic is a homogeneity rivaled only by that of China's Red Army. The company boasts that it has at least 10,000 videos on stock at every store, and of those more than 40 million tapes in Blockbuster's claimed stockpile, not a single one is X-rated.

"We want the same recognition McDonald's has," Huizenga explains. "And we want to be just as squeaky clean too."

To gauge the effect of Blockbuster's cinch on America's entertainment appetite, go to the nearest McDonald's. Look at the asses on the people who eat there all the time and have done so for a few years. Now go to the nearest Blockbuster compound; there will be one very nearby. Look around at the customers in Blockbuster. Nice enough looking, blameless folks. Recall the sorry shape of the asses on habitual McDonald's diners. Such will be the condition of the typical Blockbuster client's brain, soon, and it will have really bad zits as well.

Shutting out Mom-and-Pop competitors and draining local character from individual neighborhoods could hardly be expected to satisfy a megalomaniac of Huizenga's stature. In a move that puts Wayne in the position of producing the crap he rents, Blockbuster has merged with cable-TV scourge Viacom and the Paramount entertainment conglomerate. This marriage of finance and aesthetic fascism explains the influx of Blockbuster ads on MTV, and it masks limitless potential for exploiting, abusing and stupefying a gullible, impressionable audience.

Every Blockbuster customer, through a computer-coded membership card, is recorded and mapped by the company's intelligence system. The individual's tastes are logged, compiled, tracked and, some say, sold. Most accounts report that the company has issued 40 million of these cards, roughly 10,000 per store. If the figures are taken at face value, Blockbuster's files will soon be more extensive than those of the KGB.

"We're tinkering on the outer edges of democracy as we know it," observed Arthur Teele, chairman of Florida's Dade County Commission, speaking in support of a project by Huizenga to construct a 2,100-acre theme park and professional-sports complex in the midst of what remains of Florida's everglades. Rather than contend with residents in the vicinity of the proposed megaplex, Huizenga managed to have the area declared a separate county governed by Blockbuster influence alone.

"If I rent something," explained Wayne, revealing a secret of his success, "basically I'm selling the same thing over and over."

From an Asshole, that same thing over and over is always shit.

Fidel Castro: Castro's revolution will not be televised, mainly because it was a total failure. After 32 years of staunchly Marxist rhetoric and provocation, the man who did everything in his power to place enemy nuclear warheads a few minutes from America's shores is attacking the United States with an arsenal of human souls. Fidel's weapon of choice is a living, breathing stream of refugees desperate for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. These Cubans are being set adrift in a sea of danger and deprivation, pawns in Castro's game to mooch dollars from the Great Satan that he has railed against for decades. This Cuban heel is a cigar-chomping, world-class Asshole.

Lady Diana: Scotland Yard, the British version of the Keystone Cops, believes that Diana, Princess of Wales, made more than 300 crank hang-up phone calls to a guy who didn't have time to return them all. Palace public relations admits Di may have hung up a few times when the guy's wife answered. Suicidal, bulimic, a stalker too, none-too-ladylike Diana is Princess Asshole.

Culture Crash

It smelled like hippie spirit the weekend of August 13, 1994, when roughly 250,000 mud-bogged members of the MTV generation reenacted the 1969 Woodstock festival for two more days of peace, love and titty twisting. Judging from the photos of this year's event, sexual freedom, as it was in the '60s, is alive and well in Saugerties, New York. In fact, bare breasts grabbed more headlines than dreary sets from the likes of the Allman Brothers, Traffic and the Rollins Band. The songs may change, but naked chicks covered with mud, sweat and beers remain the same symbol each new generation embraces. God bless the children.

Porn From the Past

Before HUSTLER photographers invented the open-legged pink shot, most girls lived their lives with unopened thighs. Kudos to Larry Flynt and the reader who sent in the image of this large, luscious lady.

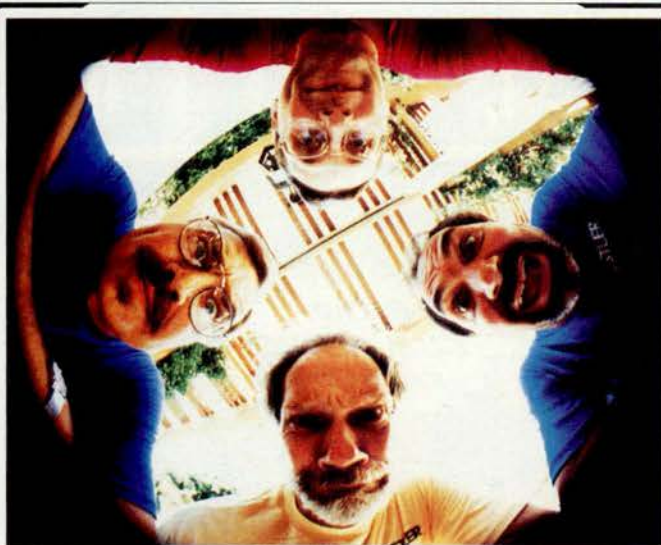

Fatten your bank account by sending old smut stills to HUSTLER's Porn From the Past, 9171 Wilshire Boulevard, Suite 300, Beverly Hills, CA 90210. Include a self-addressed, stamped envelope if you want your material returned.

"MOST TASTELESS CARTOON"

"Now there's a thought—wanna do pizza for supper?"

Smells Like Toon Spirit

Pretty girls come and go, but HUSTLER's cartoons have consistently earned Larry Flynt's flagship publication a racy reputation for controversy and cutting-edge humor. Huddled together are four of the most notorious comic contributors to America's Magazine (clockwise from top) Dan Collins, George Trosley, Dwaine Tinsley, and John Billette. The pen is indeed mightier than the sword; just ask any of the millions of readers this ink posse has slain during 20 years of HUSTLER service.

HUSTLER's Tribute to the Taint

The Taint

A vertical patch of skin measuring anywhere from one-and-a-half to five inches that ain't her asshole and ain't her pussy.

History

First discovered by Ponce de León, who believed he had found the Fountain of Youth. The Spanish explorer spent the better part of a year in a North American native's taint, living only off of yeast and berries, before dying of heat exhaustion.

Myth

A little-known, 20th Century Greek philosopher, Passgasolitis, once postulated that man could learn the mystery of the universe by listening to a woman's taint. It turned out, however, Passgasolitis was shooting mescaline, and his girlfriend had eaten salsa-covered broccoli for lunch.

Today's recommended uses for the taint: chin rest, place to stick gum while licking pussy, soap dish, tick-tack-toe board, envelope sealer, cheese grater, intermediate home for the goldfish while cleaning his bowl, contact lens holder, claw pole for her kitty and spare-key stash place.

Pencil Envy

Many lesbians are creative, sexually active gals, but in their work and play there's always one thing missing—a penis. Now dykes can have their dick and draw with it too! Announcing Gayola Crayons, the first art option that helps a sapphist channel her masculine aggressions in fun and therapeutic ways. Each box includes an array of cock-shaped colors like Ultra Bi-lit, Dickey Hickey Purple, Yeastie Yellow, Butthole Brown, Orangegasm and 'Mo Mauve.

Gayola Crayons—

things a man could live without, but why should he?

'Tis the season to be jolly? Not when bombarded with the jingling hell of monotonous Christmas noels. Enliven those dreary holiday ditties with the Cornhole Caroler. The stereophonic vibrator comes complete with saucy versions of yuletide hits such as, "Deck My Balls," "I Came Upon a Midnight Rear," and "We Three Kings of Orient Are Here to Fuck Your Asshole." Sing while you schwing. Batteries included, $20.

Tired of fucking the same, aged gash? Stick the old lady's cherry back inside, and turn the frigid frog into a winsome princess. The Virginal Reality Head Gear system makes any pussy seem pristine again with its patented 36-24-36 Hind Sight Perception. Suddenly the golden girl is transformed into a young, unpopped bottle of comfort and joy. Batteries not included, $10,099.

Auto theft just grew harder thanks to the Blowjack System. The airhead Inflato-Chick™ acts as a decoy when the owner's away and a fuck toy when he's ready to play. Traffic jammed? Who cares? Give new meaning to car pooling by shooting a load of swimming semen inside this polyurethane driver's side air bag. Adapts to any auto's cigarette lighter for pulsating vibrations, $159.

Everyone loves lesbians. Sadly, some girls are still hesitant to eat pussy. Not anymore. Turn even the straightest chicks into labe-licking, clit-sucking bisexuals by cranking the new Poonasonic Hi-Bi Stereo. The unit transmits a high-pitched, 69-watt, heat-seeking signal only females can hear. The turn of a knob transforms delivery girls, maids, even mothers-in-law into lipstick sharing lesbians, $666. (Fag adaptable with the use of any Liza Minnelli CD.)

Aside from a field of flowers blooming under a soft, spring rain, nothing says freshness like a disinfectant-saturated cardboard cutout of a tree. Now, men can enjoy the balmy bouquet of a used car's interior every time they lick a cunt protected by the Pussy Potpourri. Simply attach the air purifier around her labia and enjoy up to two weeks of lip-smacking sweet scents. Available in pine, red wine and pork rind aromas, $10.

Are You a Faggot?

Anything goes in today's vast carnal landscape, and HUSTLER recognizes all denominations of sexual preference: straight, gay or worse. As a consumer service, however, we want to ensure that our readers have purchased the proper magazine to appeal to their particular interests. Whether queer, just curious or a firm member of the hetero family, take this pop quiz scientifically designed to separate the men from the boy toys.

FEED BACK

Stoned Sober

This is in response to a cartoon layout in HUSTLER's August 1994 issue entitled The Paths of Bucky (The Paths of Bucky: The HUSTLER Beaver Takes a Hike, August '94). The portion of the cartoon that shows a bunch of passed-out alkiees at Alcoholics Anonymous is utterly tasteless. Members of AA do not go to meetings to get drunk. They go to AA to refrain from drinking. What is shown in The Paths of Bucky is not what AA is about. By printing this so-called humorous item, readers who suspect they have a problem with alcohol might not want to go to an AA meeting for fear they might get drunk there. As a proud member of AA, I think HUSTLER owes AA members an apology for this wrongful impression. —K. M.

Memphis, Missouri

In The Paths of Bucky, Mr. Beaver passed a sidewalk stand positioned between two bars, where he spiked a bowl of AA punch. However, at the very worst, the only prospective AA members who could be negatively affected would necessarily be cartoon figures. HUSTLER apologizes to all cartoon AA members—whether simply sketched or fully animated—for any wrongful impressions.

Fool for Love

I've been reading about husbands who want to have guys fuck their wives. I have a wonderful and horny wife. For a long time I've wanted to find a real sexual challenger for her. Unfortunately, it seems reality will not allow us that freedom.

First, we have three kids, and we don't want any "accident." So, where do we find a vasectomized guy to fuck my wife? Condoms and pills are not for us.

Second, nobody wants to get sick, especially from HIV infection. How many tests has the guy got to take to prove he is not infected with AIDS or herpes?

Third, even if the above problems are solved, how can I be sure that after the fucking experiment, my wife still likes my style in bed and doesn't compare my dick with the other guy's?

—K. N.
Charlotte, North Carolina

Since the reason you want another man to lay the woman you married, K. N., is to introduce her to a "real sexual challenger"—yet, unlike true swingers, you dread inviting a stranger into bed—here's a suggestion: Try taking her like a man who knows how to fuck. Chances are, she won't recognize you, and the only dick she'll compare yours to is your own!

Go to College

I subscribe to HUSTLER Magazine and would like to see pictures of cheerleaders in short outfits. I am 43 years old and have contacted the local high school, who told me their cheerleaders were minors. Can you help?

—B. C.
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

40-Watt Bulb

To improve HUSTLER Magazine, here's an idea: Include, as a special feature four times a year, a perforated section with a zip-lock paper seal. Mark it with specific warning instructions that one must be 21 years old or more to open this material. Why? Because this special section will feature pictorials of real people having sex, including regular, ordinary people from all walks of life and of different social status who may choose to hide their identities by use of disguises or mustaches. Fancy lighting and backgrounds would be eliminated in these provocative, intimate shots. Photo sessions would take place in an informal studio setting or at home.

Sound outrageous? Not for HUSTLER, the leader in erotic innovation.

The special feature I'm describing would entail sexually active couples in various positions having sexual intercourse and feature couples of various sizes. Such as a slim gal with a heavy mate or a slim guy with a heavy gal. Another alternative would be a short guy with a tall gal and a short gal with a tall guy; a wheelchair user getting off with his mate; or two heavyweights porking one another! Imagine a pictorial of older folks doing it the slow, leisurely way! Included could be quotes or statements as to what the folks are thinking, or advice on how couples can increase maximum excitement together after so many years of togetherness, which would be helpful, especially for those older people!

I'm not suggesting Larry Flynt's vision isn't perfect in every way, I am talking real people for a real-people magazine—HUSTLER Magazine! You can have these folks volunteer if funding is limited for this kind of feature. Thank you.

—D. E.

Published Now

You assholes at HUSTLER can all suck my dick. Especially your fiction editor, who I hope has a snow snake crawl up his ass and freeze his guts so that he dies.

You know, I hope, that I'm pissed because the timely and informative, outrageously funny and simply wonderful work of fiction that I submitted was promptly rejected without explanation.

Do you know how much work I put into that piece? Or what the price of coffee and cigarettes is in prison these days? I needed that money. Me and my cellie want a color TV.

Fuck you until you die. I'm nominating your fiction editor for Asshole of the Month, the schmuck. —Pissed in Prison
Imperial, California

Sorry, Pissed. The simple truth? We wouldn't recognize timely, informative, outrageously funny and simply wonderful fiction if we tripped over it.

Black Attack

This concerns what I read in HUSTLER's Feedback in October 1994: the letter written by R. C. of Chicago, Illinois ("Kettle Call," Feedback, October '94). The man raised a point. I believe he deserves an answer. I have been buying HUSTLER ever since I joined the Navy back in 1976. Through the years, HUSTLER has printed pictures of beautiful black women, but seemingly has done everything but openly admit that the black male population should be dead.

HUSTLER's time-honored reply to charges of racism is that you have to fight fire with fire. Well, that's bullshit. All you get is a firestorm.

By the same logic, if every government on Earth pushed all the doomsday buttons at the same time, there would be no one left. If people keep picking at old wounds, nothing will ever heal, and in this day and age, we need all the healing we can get. The old gene pool has been sloshed around quite a bit in the past few centuries. It would be pretty damned arrogant for anyone to think they were anything more than just human. If I had to rely on my color as a source of pride, I wouldn't have much. Anglo-Saxons have done just about every despicable thing imaginable.

Don't get me wrong. If I didn't like HUSTLER, I wouldn't have spent 20 years and a lot of money buying it. You put the best-looking women in HUSTLER. Whattaya say. Print this letter and give a reply, and I will keep it up for another 20. Get it up for another 20? Now that's funny.

Black Squack

Picking up HUSTLER's June 1994 issue, I immediately came upon the hot layout of Amber (Amber and Adonis: Black Tail, White Rail, June '94). As a very liberal and experienced black male, I found Amber looking totally edible! She could lead me around by my penis any day! If Amber asked me to get on my knees and kiss her between her thighs, I would. She is just as dark and lovely as I! Together we could make the world thunder. Looking into her eyes would be like looking into my own soul. Do you believe in such magic? After seeing Amber, I do. Amber beats flesh and blood as far as I'm concerned.

Wet Ones

As a connoisseur of pink in all its shapes and forms, I've never seen anything as fuck-inspiring as HUSTLER Magazine's November 1994 issue. I just had to write and say, "Superior work." HUSTLER's got balls, and as it says on the cover, they

REAL TICKETS

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by Jim Holliday; starring Keisha, Tiffany Mynx, Brittany O'Connel, Mickey Lynn, Kiss, Sahara Sands, Debi Diamond, Nicole London, Chasey Lain, Debbie Jointed, Ariel Day, Diane O'Daina, Sydney St. James, Jalynn, Shawn Ricks, Bailey Parrish, Cody Adams, Joey Silvera and T. T. Boy. Videocassette: VCA.

Silicone tits suck. No complaint is lodged more often—or more justifiably—against the adult-entertainment industry than rancor with the continuing influence of plastic surgeons on the pleasure-satchels of porn queens. Along comes Real Tickets, the first fuck tape in ages to boast a cast of 100% natural-boobed beauties. Soft, movable, sublime breastage aside, Real Tickets is just plain real good. Lilting Mickey Lynn opens the tape by climbing astride tough-guy T. T. Boy's boner; later she amazes all onlookers with her nude, nimble performance on a set of parallel bars (the plot revolves around some nonsense involving gymnastics and vaginas). Amid mesmerizing displays of athletic girly-meat flouncing about locker rooms, fun-flopped Tiffany Mynx takes it from Cody Adams; Shawn Ricks and Joey Silvera butt-fuck and breast-blast stretchy Sahara Sands and double-jointed Jalynn; the staggeringly stacked Keisha bounds from a bathtub to bump nubbins with creamy and curvaceous Brittany O'Connel; Boy bounces back to dick Debi Diamond's ass (then he watches her slurp up the spew-droplets that happened to miss her sphincters). Other than gloriously mush-mammared intercourse, Real Tickets's scenes of unclothed strutting and tumbling are stupendous: The awe-inspiring, erotic avalanche of flesh that is Keisha bouncing on a trampoline in slow motion must be seen to be believed. By all means, see Real Tickets. —Selwyn Harris

Tickets: A mouthful of Keisha's mams for London.

Tickets: Tantalizing Tiffany Mynx muffs the mouth of Cody Adams.

THE REVENGE OF BONNIE AND CLYDE

Half Erect. Directed by Paul Thomas; starring Racquel Darrian, Dyanna Laurien, Asia Carrera, Tara Monroe, Isis Nile, Derrick Lane, Tony Tedeschi, Steven St. Croix, Jon Dough and Buck Adams. Videocassette: Vivid Film. Shot on Film.

Revenge: Darrian dick-dines.

One of the best-looking porn tapes ever created, The Revenge of Bonnie and Clyde is, in regards to technical aspects and acting, hardly any worse than the typical network-TV drama-of-the-week. The Revenge, the concluding episode of a series, might inspire saps to check out the semen-and-soap opera's opening segments. Bonnie and Clyde takes place behind-the-scenes during the filming of a real movie, a period piece with antique cars and vintage wardrobe and ambitious, hot-box producer's assistants and power-prick entertainment executives. Selfish Hollywood assholes fight and sexually betray one another all over the set. And the whole production is actually believable, which makes it weird when Racquel Darrian enlists a jaded jill to lick the balls of Derrick Lane as he plows Racquel's foxy furrow, and when a fully filled chick elicits cum on her lips and shitter, and when two sweeties tweet on Tony Tedeschi's bone, and when Buck Adams climbs high to ram low into Isis Nile. Such jarringly disparate qualities don't necessarily make for the best Revenge.
—Christian Shapiro

TAXI GIRLS 4: DAUGHTERS OF LUST

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Jourdan Alexander; starring Chante, Tony Montana, Alicia Rio, Alex San Paulo, Lili Exene, Steve Houston, Freddie Diamond, Sharon Kane and Morgan Havarro. Videocassette: Caballero.

Taxi Girls: Juanita takes 'tard dick hard.

Two conchitas ride a donkey across a little rio and make out on a serape. A straw-hat wet-back looks on. Sharon Kane, finally playing the mother of someone old enough to be getting shived in a fuck film, eats a porky Mexican's chorizo. He climbs up and crams his fatty, greasy sausage into her barrio for boners and drains testicle horchata on her face. Much of this poorly lit sex schlock seems to have been shot in low-rent locations that are actually situated below the southern border of the continental United States. This kind of crap will flood the country if NAFTA is ever enacted. A couple of broads stand around jammering in a foreign language, an exotic sound to everyone except for the millions of urban dwellers who confront chattering, strident monkey-dialect at every turn of their workaday lives. Tony Montana drops stuff on Lili Exene's open gash. Some Gump-like dump-wad bores his big, mutant turd-tamper into some Juanita's butt. The moral of the story seems to be that a shrill bitch will be nicer to everybody after getting fucked in the ass. Does anyone really need to hail a Taxi Girl to find that out?
—C. S.

THE GIRL IN ROOM 69

Half-Erect. Directed by W. Bosley DeLongprez; starring Kelly Royce, Kaitlyn Ashley, Kimberly Chambers, Jasper, Bianca Trump, Sahara Sands, Jonathan Morgan, Jon Dough, Jake Williams and Alex Sanders. Videocassette: VCA.

The Girl in Room 69 takes a gaggle of ginches that any stiffie-packing stooge would love to get in a room, then dumps them in a rote (if somewhat heatedly above average), throwaway video. What's worse? Director W. Bosley DeLongprez's filmmaking techniques are as inept and annoying as his stupid pseudonym. Typical of the attention to craft in Room 69 is that not one scene involves the sex act of the title. The sex scenes do involve John Dough looking like a pirate and having his sword swallowed by Kaitlyn Ashley and Bianca Trump; jaunty, jug-assed Jasper getting a man-milk moustache from Alex Sanders; Jonathan Morgan pushing meat up delectably chesty Kim Chambers's well-packed pooper; bony-but-sexy Kelly Royce bending over for some more Morgan action; and ape-face Jake Williams wrangling Royce and tempestuous tall-splash-of-fluid Sahara Sands. Room 69 is worth checking into, but only if everything else is booked.
—S. H.

Room 69: Trump taps Ashley's ass; Dough's dick is devoured.

Freakshow Follies: First Annual Erotica Ball

KIND OF BALLSY

Rubber-wearing weirdos, cross-dressing fatboys and damsels in dog collars provided the ogle-factor at Los Angeles's First Annual Erotica Ball.

Hyped by an unprecedented high-profile promotion for a gathering of lowlifes, last summer's Erotica Ball attempted to expose mainstream audiences—and their money—to the far-out fetish crowd.

Frat boys mingled with dildo freaks in the considerably less-than-capacity Hollywood Palladium audience; nipples were prodded with all manner of nails (those from the hardware store and those attached to human hands); a heifer-size housewife waddled around on a chain; the Gap Band ground out what were presumably their old disco hits; a devastating dominatrix modeled masking-tape; and bountiful Brit ginch Sarah Jane Hamilton said "Hullo" a couple of times to justify her billing as Mistress of Ceremonies.

As Balls go, this one provided a better time than anything hanging between Ron Jeremy's legs.

Though maybe not for the $40 entry fee.

—SELWYN HARRIS

VIDEO VIRGIN NUMBER 12

Half Erect. Directed by nobody; starring Devi, Sabrina, Sindee, Samantha, Honey, Joei and Michael J. Cox. Videocassette: New Sensations.

Now that they've filled 11 first-timer compilations, the makers of the Video Virgins series have been forced to go further and further afield to find their cathode cherries. A too-white flop-titted Ice Queen and a bird-faced suspected sex change probably would not have made the cut for volumes three or four. In Number 12, Dairy Queen receives a dollop of man milk between her sagging mammaries, and Teaty Bird is likewise chest sprinkled. Positive trollops include a pair of saucy strumpets, of the blond and brunet varieties, who strain and hump on each other, eating snatch, slopping butt and engaging in other struggles that will have the viewer at home wringing his hand. A glamorous, smooth-shaven snatch plays way station to the thrusts of an older man (hopefully not a blood relative, though he appears to be of the same ethnic extraction) until he moves on to the turd lining of her antechamber. A billowy blonde's buns are battered with bone butter. She hangs her mouth open all the time; never closes it. Better not fuck where there are flies. A big-sack, little brunet piglet ends Number 12 with a blast to the face, and not a moment too soon.

—C. S.

Video Virgins: A new ginch nailed.

DIRTY LOOKS

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by Layne Parker; starring Ashlyn Gere, Shayla LaVeaux, Alexis DeVille, Angela Summers, Alicia Rio, Marc Wallace, Alex Sanders, Steven St. Croix, Steve Houston and Buck Adams. Videocassette: Vivid.

Dirty Looks gets down and dirty right away. A hot, post-credits Alex Sanders/Shayla LaVeaux/Alexis DeVille poke-pile precedes any plot. From that bone-inspiring beginning, Dirty Looks progresses into an effectively erotic fuck tape. The basic construct—a pair of fuck-loving fashion models get together to open an agency of their own—well propels the flesh-antics. Sanders and Steven St. Croix slink up around sizzle-ginch Ashlyn Gere and give it to her on a steaming car hood; Alicia Rio accepts Steve Houston's hard stuff up her hungry dumphole during a heated backyard buttfuck; Buck Adams bangs away at inviting Angela Summers; and Gere, Summers and the lusciously creamy-titted LaVeaux make like lesbians for a nice, long lap-stretcher of a finale. Dirty Looks is well worth a gland-in-hand gander.

—S. H. Dirty: Sanders squirts on LaVeaux and DeVille.

The HUNT Is On!

Get ready, horndogs, as high-tech erotic history unfolds: HUSTLER's Video Beaver Hunt is set to be unleashed!

HUSTLER Magazine's popular Beaver Hunt feature—in which hometown honeys submit their most scintillating snapshots for pud-pounding publication—leaps to glorious life in the upcoming Larry Flynt Publications and Blank Productions presentation.

Culled from some of HUSTLER's most talked-about Beaver Hunt entrants, scores of hot-blooded homebodies were asked to submit videotapes of themselves at their sexiest. From these, 12 lucky ladies were selected as finalists. The dozen debutantes were flown to Los Angeles, provided with luxury hotel accommodations and treated to a night of shopping at Playmates Lingerie on Hollywood Boulevard. Later, the girls acted out their wildest fantasies in front of the all-seeing HUSTLER cameras.

"These girls are so enthusiastic!" exclaims director Mickey Blank of the eager video beavers. "They're also incredibly sexy. Watching them have such a great time is a gigantic turn-on. I can't wait to share this with an audience."

Live From Bob's Classy Lady, the first feature from the HUSTLER Video Beaver Hunt, is slated for release in late fall. Watch for it, and in the meantime, keep those beavers coming in! For more information on HUSTLER Video Beaver Hunt, or to submit a tape for a future edition, call 1-800-7-HUSTLER.

Ah, the thrill of the hunt!

HUSTLER'S VIDEO BEAVER HUNT: Steamin' beavs served up hot!

SUITE 18

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by Bud Lee; starring Janine, Asia Carrera, Kaitlyn Ashley, P. J. Sparxxx, Tony Tedeschi and Marc Wallace. Videocassette: Vivid Film.

From the low-end of cable-TV-style porn comes Bud Lee's Suite 18, a titillating quickie disguised as something more substantial. To its credit, Suite 18's female cast is uniformly flawless—one fire crack after another provides the heat that easily sings away the movie's shortcomings (i.e.—excessive, dopey, "business comedy" plot). Blond, devastatingly lovely penis-hater Janine jumps in the sack with the amazingly built German-Japanese Asia Carrera for a long lesbo go-round; Asia chows on Tony Tedeschi's flesh-chopstick; and Marc Wallace uses Kaitlyn Ashley's cooze as a holder for his plantain-penis. The remaining half of Suite 18 is mostly an extensive, legitimately lap-exciting orgy: Tedeschi and Wallace take turns tool-tapping Carrera and Ashley, while Janine squeezes multiple pounding orgasms from P. J. Sparxxx. Suite 18: the setting is nothing special, but the view is downright breathtaking. —S. H.

Suite 18: Tedeschi tongues Carrera's coochie.

Peeping: A poop-out

HORNBY HENRY'S PIG ADVERTISMENTS

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Horny Henry; starring Bunny Bleu, Tabatha Towers, Jasper, Stephanie Duvalle, Krista, Vivian, Jill Amber, Randie Hart, Wendy Pippin, Dick Nasty, Arnold Schwarzenpecker, David Hardman and Max Candy. Videocassette: Totally Tasteless Video.

Horny Henry is a bogus bloke with a badly faked British accent who sorriely co-opts the "stalk-and-shoot" video format. The girls Horny Henry peeps on would be easily ignored on the street, but nude, flailing and fucking for the camera—they're rendered remarkable by both their erotic failings and exceptional ugliness. Only porn pro Jasper, whose more-than-a-mouthful of buttmeat should make any man's mouth water, and a pretty blonde whose tight body is bespeckled with birthmarks, supply the slightest inspiration for the semen-tosser at home. The rest is an embarrassment: Sub-trailer trash whores flaunt their plastic-surgery disasters; old fuck Dick Nasty half-heartedly slops his half-a-hard-on into a pair of prigs; some dumb dill-hole in a woman's dress drops choad on a less-than-lovely lady in red; and a couple of dud-studs stuff their stink-bones into an Asian who looks as though she'd prefer napalm dumped in her face. Be very wary of Horny Henry. —S. H.

Glenda: Hairy dude in make-up dicks Ashley.

GLEN AND GLENDA

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by Frank Marino; starring Kaitlyn Ashley, Steven St. Croix, Bridgette Amie, Peter North, Gerry Pike, T. T. Boy, Marc Wallace and Lynn LeMay. Videocassette: Caballero. Shot on Film.

Steven St. Croix has a problem. Every time he has sex, or even thinks about having sex (such as when surrounded by four obvious dudes preening in glummy women's clothes just like a secret cell of late-'70s glitter refugees), St. Croix becomes Kaitlyn Ashley. If only every knuckle-dragging lout who stands between the rest of us and a piece of prime porn poon would turn into a sugary snatch at the thought of sex, this world would be a more hope-filled place. But Glen and Glenda is not reality. It is a cheap and shitty porn tape. To hear these actors talk is to regret the invention of sound. Kaitlyn Ashley, as cross-dresser St. Croix's female alter ego, bangs a gang of sturdy men in glitzy frocks, or is this a backstage surveillance tape of the early Alice Cooper? Marc Wallace stove-top stuffs Bridgette Amie, but she is not revealed to be a sex change. The end credits say FIN. Glen and Glenda: Crop or crud? —C. S.

PUSSYMAN 6: HOUSE OF GAMES

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by David Christopher; starring Leena, Rebecca Bardoux, Kaitlyn Ashley, Krysti Lynn, Barbara Doll, Jeannie Pepper, Erica Bee, Summer Knight, Alicia Rio, Isis Nile, Steve Drake, Nick East, Gerry Pike and Alex Sanders. Videocassette: Snatch Productions.

Pussyman: Sanders sandwich, with Krysti and Kaitlyn as crust.

Another Pussyman, another top-flight whack-off tape. While no surprises pop up in director David Christopher's House of Games, the viewer will pop off. Krysti Lynn and Rebecca Bardoux breast-stroke and muff-dive in a backyard hot tub, greasing each other in wait for Alex Sanders to pass them his beef-baton; Jeannie Pepper gyrates her choad-coaxing chocolate milk-sacks before a roomful of rod-wielders, two of whom slip their meat into her sweet stuff and hand-deliver fresh, cream topping onto her dairy-towers; hot-drip Barbara Doll and appetizing Kaitlyn Ashley twiddle titties until Steve Drake does them both; and nasty, lascivious Leena stuffs all manner of sex toy into her stoolbox for the enticement of an awed college-boy, then sucks and fucks his young wang atop a glass table. An Isis Nile/Summer Night/Alicia Rio rug-buffing pile-up concludes Pussyman 6, and cements the series as among the most reliable in all of raunchdom. —S. H.

BACK TO ANAL ALLEY

Half Erect. Directed by M. Stone; starring Dyanna Lauren, Brad Armstrong, Lynn LeMay, Christina Angel, Celeste, Jay Ashley and Kaitlyn Ashley. Videocassette: Moonlight Entertainment.

The three sphincter-slop scenes of Back to Anal Alley are prefaced by fading and floating male faces, each breathlessly espousing the dirty fun to be had by taking a detour down anal alley. Somehow, a bunch of skeezy dudes praising dirt-chute exquisites is less appetizing than are broads rhapsodizing upon the same subject. Still, it's the chicks, not the guys, who open their asses in Back to, resulting in the following distinct pleasures: An over-lit, high-contrast Dyanna Lauren gives a good-looking b.j. to a blue-jeaned buzzhead who tongues and thumbs her pretty pussy, holds her legs up by her spike heels, eases most of his prick into her pooper and splooges on her bun button. Lynn LeMay and Celeste rectally indoctrinate Christina Angel—the chicks spank pussy, spit on poop ring, lick tart holes, slurp on toes and whip anal beads from shitter to mouth. Kaitlyn Ashley takes a thigh-slapping, fast-popping poke that precedes a messy semen splatter in her A-hole. The Alley is a sphincter-lined shortcut to a palmful of wad.

—C. S.

BAD GIRLS 1: LOCKDOWN

Half Erect. Directed by Toni English; starring Janine, Debi Diamond, Asia Carrera, Sahara Sands, Brigitte Amie, Isis Nile, Nick East, Tony Tedeschi, Alex Sanders, Steve Drake and Shawn Ricks. Videocassette: Vivid.

The more philosophically inclined among us have long wondered, What good is a woman who considers herself too good for dong? An even stickier conundrum is: How can just such a dick-detesting snatch sell herself and bloat the coffers of Vivid Video as a mercenary object of male sexual desire? It ain't fair, and it boggles human comprehension, but on the plus side, any XXX-movie box that bears the name Janine carries an implicit warning that one of the chicks in this show won't be getting fucked. Once that disappointment is dealt with, the viewer may ponder: A cock/two-pussy threeway with rod going from twat into Isis Nile's face into twat into a streak of semen ropes on Nile's face; a thug plugging Brigitte Amie's asshole; a flexed mouth muscle in Asia Carrera's clenched turd clamp; porn broads getting boned in a barn. Lockdown is a less-than-great escape.

—C. S.

Lockdown: Janine, Diamond and Carrera labe-lap.

don't stink. I was surprised to see you really show it all in this issue (Mickey and Scott: Their Love Spills Over, November '94). The cum-shot is juicy, and the leg spreads were nice and wide. HUSTLER does find beautiful girls! I'm with you for life. Thanks for the feelings. —Rad

Baby Cakes

HUSTLER has outdone itself with the September 1994 edition. I expected nothing but the best from the cover alone. Angelic-faced cover model Bo was simply mesmerizing (Bo: Thumb Stuck, September '94). Bo's hypnotic eyes and almost-dangerous, pouting expression could invite the most uptight, conservative prude to take a peek inside.

I found the pictorial of Bo both adorable and fucking erotic. The sweet, girlish lady showing off her God-given, yet devilish, body transported me to an erotic fantasy world where Bo and I could be as cute and as nasty as we wanted. Bo seems both pure and virginal as well as brazenly lewd and carnal. Her naked skin and hair sent my senses swimming. I could almost imagine the softness of her flesh, the overwhelming smell of baby powder and the overwhelming, musky intoxicant of female excitement.

I especially enjoyed the pictures of Bo as perfectly naked and barefoot as the glorious day she was born. I could use Bo's suckable toes as pacifiers forever. Likewise, I could make pleasing Bo my one goal in life, showering her with rattles and "toys," watching her toes curl as she squeals with delight! Bo brings me back to that nervous, exciting time when sex was new. I think Bo could always make it seem new. —R. C.

Skin Mag Sinner

Forgive me, Larry, for I have sinned. I cast my eyes upon a men's magazine other than HUSTLER. The reason? I was weak and curious to see what Tonya Harding looked like naked. Boy, was that a mistake. She looked like a leper pygmy, and her tits looked like a litter of puppies had sucked them dry. I want to thank you, Larry, for turning down the chance to print any photos of Tonya, keeping HUSTLER's quality unbesmirched and number one. Let all the other wannabe HUSTLERs print nude shots of washed-up celebrities like Tonya Harding and Patti Davis. HUSTLER gives us the real stars every month in Erotic Entertainment. Erotic Entertainment Editor Mike McPadden is Professor Porn. In fact, he's more help than a psychic in a sex shop. I've noticed over the years that HUSTLER goes through editors like chicks go through tampons, but right now HUSTLER's never looked better. The current staff kicks ass! Everyone reading this—give Larry Flynt and the HUSTLER staff a sticky ovation. Come on, goddammit! They deserve it. —J. B.

With her blissful breasts, her glorious gluteus, her blessed bush, it was predestined: HUSTLER readers overwhelmingly chose beatifically beautiful Angelica Bella as 1994 Honey of the Year.

Unfortunately, the heavenly Hungarian is a married lady now, and only her lucky husband is privy to her divine charms. There could be no new photos celebrating Angelica Bella's ascension.

HUSTLER could easily have solved this problem by awarding the coveted title to the second-place finisher and shooting a new pictorial, but we are America's Magazine, and America has spoken. We dipped into our vaults and came up with pictures of Angelica Bella not included in her original, February 1993 spread.

Thus, the photos before you are not new—but they will prove uplifting.

FAT FUCK

I love large women, and only large women. My obsession dates back to when I was a small boy, watching the Mamas and Papas' first appearance on the Ed Sullivan Show. As the group broke into "California Dreamin'," the two hippie men and that skinny wraith, Michelle Phillips, faded into the background, and there, center-stage, stood a vision: Cass Elliot, or "Mama" Cass, in a size-24 baby-doll dress, her legs bulging out of knee-high boots. I couldn't take my eyes off the expanse of pudgy, white flesh between the top of her footwear and the hem of her dainty dress as she did a surprisingly graceful version of the mashed potato. A tingling in my tiny loins signaled the end of my innocence and the beginning of a lifelong habit of fat-inspired self-abuse.

Of course, masturbation alone was no longer sufficient once I reached adulthood, and only the feel of a fat woman's cushiony, dimpled arms locked around my chest, and her puffy-lipped, sweaty cunt riding up and down my cock could truly bring me relief. Luckily, I have never had a problem finding obese women willing to partner me; society's leftovers, they are easy pickings, and only last week I struck the mother lode.

I had stayed home Saturday night to nurse a cold, but an awful, hacking cough was keeping me awake. I needed medicine. I ran to the Lucky's nearby and made it through the door about five minutes before their midnight closing time. As I stood in line at the one open register—with ten people in front of me, naturally—a deep voice right behind me honked, "Three's a crowd; three's a crowd; open another register."

I turned and looked at the fattest woman I had ever seen, clutching a three-pound bag of Hershey's Miniatures left over from Halloween and marked down to 79 cents. She wore what looked like two canvas hammocks sewn together as a halter top to support her mammoth mammarys, which were perilously close to spilling out the sides. A pair of elephantine hot pants left bare the rolls of skin on her legs—each fold a welcoming pocket for my already-swelling dick. The flesh of her lower limbs had swallowed her ankles; it looked like she had two stumps jammed into her platform heels. I could barely restrain myself from immediately running my hands up the acres of her belly and sinking my teeth into the rings of fat around her neck.

"Pardon my presumptuousness," I began, hiding my crotch bulge with the bottle of Nyquil. "but I wonder if you would care to join me for a midnight snack?"

"You're pretty fuckin' funny," she growled in her baritone.

"Seriously," I said. "I'd really like to get to know you, maybe over some french fries and mayonnaise."

"Well, okay," she reluctantly agreed, mollified by the prospect of food.

We headed in my car for a broken-down diner near the 137. April flowed out of the passenger seat, her left thigh nearly covering the gearshift. Feeling the press of her marshmallow-soft arm against mine, her wheezing breath so close to my ear, I could no longer keep up the pretense of wanting to talk to her or watch her eat. I made a U-turn, and over April's protestations, raced to the nearest motel. Ignoring the stares of the desk clerk, I took April's elbow in both hands and waltzed her into our cabin.

"But I'm hungry!" April whined.

"I've got a nice, plump sausage for you," I said, releasing my aching member. She hesitated.

"I thought you were starving to death," I complained. "Eat!"

April lowered her weight to the floor and took my entire eight inches into her mouth. She sucked my rod as if she were dying of thirst, and the last drop of water on earth was in my balls. My nuts rippled from the force of the vacuum in her throat. Fat women always give great head because they're orally fixated.

April's monstrous jaws engulfed my cock and testicles together. Her cavernous mouth was oven-warm. The lapping of her ravenous tongue sent furious shivers up my spine, and I felt the rumblings of an imminent eruption in my rod. I wasn't about to shoot my wad without covering every cottage-cheese mile of that quivering beast; so I pushed her away.

"Let me see those water balloons," I demanded, tearing off her top and unleashing an avalanche unsullied by silicone, yet bigger than any man-made breasts could ever be. The nipples alone were as large as an entire pair of tits on a thinner woman. I fell on April's teats and suckled like a Biafran baby, frantically grabbing and squeezing fistfuls of spongy flesh everywhere I could reach.

April dropped back onto the bed and rolled her two beach balls together, inviting me to pork them. I knew even my whopper would be lost between those monumental milk-sacks; so instead I dove face-first between her udders, drew them up over my head and fucked her blimps with my skull, leaving my tongue hanging out to run up and down the soft, salty valley formed by her tits. April, meanwhile, had grasped my dick in one of her chubby baby hands and was yanking it like it was a stuck lever on a snack machine; her other hand was buried between her thighs, stirring the fragrant soup that was simmering in her snatch. I released my head, gasping for air, and she immediately lifted her pungent fingers to my face and waved them under my nostrils.

"Have a taste," she offered. I hungrily

HOT LETTERS

The tangy scent of unwashed pussy filled my nostrils and stung my eyes. I gratefully nuzzled her greasy lower locks and lapped at the overflowing font between her lips.

swallowed her sticky digits and sucked them clean. The taste of her gravy and the oily fumes wafting up from her cunt spurred me on to venture into the forest between her mountainous thighs. I knelt before her, as if in prayer. Her enormous ass naturally propped up her vagina level with my cock, and I plunged in. April's pussy was the only small part of her; it gripped my prick like one of those Chinese magic finger traps, squeezing it harder the more I pushed and pulled. In rhythm with my plowing, April tightened her jelly butt, raising her cunt higher and jerking my dick up. With each slapping together of her massive cheeks, the bed quaked. I heard a crack of wood, and the bed collapsed just as I pumped a round of jizz bullets into April's little target.

I fell on top of her, my head on her belly, my arms stretched as far as they could go around her, and I almost dozed off, lulled by the gentle rolling hills of her flesh.

"Sweetheart," April lowed.

Uh-oh, I thought.

"No one's ever made me feel like this before," she said, lovingly patting my head with her ham hand. "No one's ever liked me for myself. Just for you, I'm going to go to Jenny Craig."

"That's nice," I lied. "You know, I left something in the car. Wait right here."

I sped away in the direction of the nearest 24-hour Ralph's.

SPARE THE ROD

My wife and I have devised a number of games to keep our love alive. It's not that Pat is no longer attractive to me. She's blond and busty, and she looks as hot as she did when I met her at NYU ten years ago—better, in fact, because her hips and ass have filled out. The games are just sexy frosting on our marital cake.

We usually perform our playlets in the privacy of our home, but for our eighth wedding anniversary, Pat decided to surprise me. That night, after a delicious candlelit dinner, she tied a blindfold around my head and led me to the car. Fifteen minutes later, the clack-clack of our footsteps echoed loudly down an empty hallway, and my nostrils were assaulted by the smells of chalk and of piss that has splashed on the floor beside midget urinals, missed by young boys just learning to aim. I remembered that Pat's best friend's husband was a custodian at the Catholic elementary school in our neighborhood, and my heart lurched.

Pat led me into a room. "I want to see where we are," I said impatiently.

"Two seconds," requested Pat.

I heard the rustle of clothes.

"Now," Pat intoned, in an imperious voice, "you may remove the blindfold."

I ripped it off, and there stood Pat, covered head to toe in full nun regalia, including a crucifix the size of a hubcap dangling from her neck. Pat knew that I still bore the scars—emotional and physical—of 13 years of parochial schooling, at the mercy of those harpies in habits. I immediately felt uncomfortably hot, and the arousal that sometimes comes from fear flooded my body.

"Take a seat," ordered Sister Mary Pat. I obediently squeezed my six-foot frame into a tiny desk in the front row.

"Well, young man," she continued, her eyes gleaming. "Do you know why you are being kept after school while all the other little children are out playing?"

"No," I replied, nervously scratching my nose.

"Because you have nasty habits," she yelled, raising a two-foot long, wooden ruler over her head and bringing it down hard on my offending hand.

At the sight of the red welts, the tingling between my legs became a full-fledged boner. When Sister Mary Pat turned toward the blackboard, I quickly reached down to release my throbbing cock from its confines.

"For your punishment, you will do extra lessons," she barked. "We will begin with anatomy; specifically, the skeletal system."

Sister Mary Pat lifted her voluminous skirt; she was naked underneath, and her pussy was newly shaved. The tip of my distended member rose to rub against the age-hardened wads of discarded gum and boogers on the underside of my desk, but I didn't dare move my hands.

"As you can see, the femur is connected to the pelvic girdle," began Sister Mary Pat, drawing a decidedly un-nun-like, lacquered nail up her thigh and across her delicately curved lower belly.

"And in the center," she continued, prodding her cunt, "is the vagina. It has no bone in it." Parting the glistening lips, she shoved three fingers in past the swallowed her sticky digits and sucked them clean. The taste of her gravy and the oily fumes wafting up from her cunt spurred me on to venture into the forest between her mountainous thighs. I knelt before her, as if in prayer. Her enormous ass naturally propped up her vagina level with my cock, and I plunged in. April's pussy was the only small part of her; it gripped my prick like one of those Chinese magic finger traps, squeezing it harder the more I pushed and pulled. In rhythm with my plowing, April tightened her jelly butt, raising her cunt higher and jerking my dick up. With each slapping together of her massive cheeks, the bed quaked. I heard a crack of wood, and the bed collapsed just as I pumped a round of jizz bullets into April's little target.

The tangy scent of unwashed pussy filled my nostrils and stung my eyes. I gratefully nuzzled her greasy lower locks and lapped at the overflowing font between her lips.

I fell on top of her, my head on her belly, my arms stretched as far as they could go around her, and I almost dozed off, lulled by the gentle rolling hills of her flesh.

"Sweetheart," April lowed.

Uh-oh, I thought.

"No one's ever made me feel like this before," she said, lovingly patting my head with her ham hand. "No one's ever liked me for myself. Just for you, I'm going to go to Jenny Craig."

"That's nice," I lied. "You know, I left something in the car. Wait right here."

I sped away in the direction of the nearest 24-hour Ralph's.

SPARE THE ROD

My wife and I have devised a number of games to keep our love alive. It's not that Pat is no longer attractive to me. She's blond and busty, and she looks as hot as she did when I met her at NYU ten years ago—better, in fact, because her hips and ass have filled out. The games are just sexy frosting on our marital cake.

We usually perform our playlets in the privacy of our home, but for our eighth wedding anniversary, Pat decided to surprise me. That night, after a delicious candlelit dinner, she tied a blindfold around my head and led me to the car. Fifteen minutes later, the clack-clack of our footsteps echoed loudly down an empty hallway, and my nostrils were assaulted by the smells of chalk and of piss that has splashed on the floor beside midget urinals, missed by young boys just learning to aim. I remembered that Pat's best friend's husband was a custodian at the Catholic elementary school in our neighborhood, and my heart lurched.

Pat led me into a room. "I want to see where we are," I said impatiently.

"Two seconds," requested Pat.

I heard the rustle of clothes.

"Now," Pat intoned, in an imperious voice, "you may remove the blindfold."

I ripped it off, and there stood Pat, covered head to toe in full nun regalia, including a crucifix the size of a hubcap dangling from her neck. Pat knew that I still bore the scars—emotional and physical—of 13 years of parochial schooling, at the mercy of those harpies in habits. I immediately felt uncomfortably hot, and the arousal that sometimes comes from fear flooded my body.

"Take a seat," ordered Sister Mary Pat. I obediently squeezed my six-foot frame into a tiny desk in the front row.

"Well, young man," she continued, her eyes gleaming. "Do you know why you are being kept after school while all the other little children are out playing?"

"No," I replied, nervously scratching my nose.

"Because you have nasty habits," she yelled, raising a two-foot long, wooden ruler over her head and bringing it down hard on my offending hand.

At the sight of the red welts, the tingling between my legs became a full-fledged boner. When Sister Mary Pat turned toward the blackboard, I quickly reached down to release my throbbing cock from its confines.

knuckles and writhed like a dervish on her hand, her eyes rolling up into her nodding head.

My swollen prick was about to bust an inkwell through the desktop. I reached under and grabbed it in desperation.

"You filthy little boy!" thundered Sister Mary Pat. She yanked me out of my seat and pulled my pants down.

"I will physically drive the impure thoughts from your body," she pronounced, and set upon my dick with her ruler. Each stinging strike sent a wave of nausea through me, but no amount of beating would make my cock go down; in fact, it only stretched higher and higher, as if in rebellion.

"This is hot work," panted Sister Mary Pat. She removed everything but her habit and gory necklace. Her glorious D cups were suddenly hanging in my face, dripping with sweat. I snapped at them, catching a pencil-eraser nipple between my teeth, and grabbed at her pillowy ass cheeks.

"How dare you!" cried Sister Mary Pat, shoving me away. Grabbing my shoulders, she swung her breasts at my head, pounding my face over and over with her pendulous tits.

"I'm sorry," I squeaked out.

"Tell my cunt how sorry you are," she ordered, lying back on her desk and pulling my head between her thighs, "and keep your hands folded behind your back. You are not to touch me."

The tangy scent of unwashed pussy filled my nostrils and stung my eyes. I gratefully nuzzled her greasy lower locks and lapped at the overflowing font between her lips. As my tongue burrowed further into her cave, the incense emanating from the moist center made my head heavy. I reached below and inched an index finger toward her asshole, which was emitting its own cock-thrilling, earthy perfume.

"What did I tell you!" Sister Mary Pat roared, slapping my hand away. "I'll put the fear of God in you." She threw me face-down over the teacher's desk, grabbed a fistful of library paste and smeared it on my bunghole. Snapping her crucifix off its thin chain, she shoved the holy icon up my ass.

"Jesus Christ, Pat!" I yowled. Pat had gone too far. A man's asshole is sacred.

"I'm sorry, honey," Pat mumbled, out of character. "I got overenthusiastic." We stood helplessly for a minute or two, the momentum of the game, and my boner, lost.

"Well, we might as well go home," I said forlornly, pulling my trousers up.

"Look!" exclaimed Pat. She pointed to my cock, which was slowly creeping heavenward.

"It's a miracle," I laughed, and lifted my bride of Christ up onto the desk.

Pat started to take off her headgear.

"No, leave it on," I begged.

She got on her hands and knees, and I pressed my tongue into the twinkling star between her cheeks, savoring the peppery taste. When it was moist, I pulled back and, grabbing her habit like it was a hank of hair, rammed my woodcock into her waiting asshole.

"I'm bad, I'm bad, I'm bad," I gasped with each forward thrust, my jam-packed balls playing bongos on Pat's butt. When I felt my prick about to burst, I pulled out, grabbed the bottle of library paste and shot a fat load into it. My wife and I giggled like children as I capped the bottle and placed it in the top drawer of the teacher's desk. What a great anniversary!

I'm already planning Pat's surprise for next year. She had an awful experience once in the 4-H Club.

You'll Never Buy An X-Rated Video Again!

CYBERSEX®

HOME VIRTUAL REALITY SIMULATOR SYSTEMS

Completely self-contained, designed for personal home use

READY-TO-ENJOY • NO COMPUTER NEEDED!

SEXUALLY ORIENTED ADULT ENTERTAINMENT AS YOU KNOW IT IS ABOUT TO CHANGE FOREVER; IF YOU WANT TO BE ONE OF THE FIRST TO EXPERIENCE THIS INCREDIBLE NEW BREAKTHROUGH, KEEP READING . . .

cybersex n. (sigh-burr-sex)—a sexual encounter that one experiences utilizing the new technology of "virtual reality," i.e. not occurring in reality, but with all the sensations, pleasure, and orgasmic response of real sex so faithfully duplicated, as to be virtually indistinguishable from the real thing. (See also cybersexual intercourse.)

Virtual Reality is the most phenomenal breakthrough to emerge from science in decades. The whole world is talking about it: The Los Angeles Times Magazine and other major metropolitan newspapers have covered it; Talk-show hosts have experimented with it on national TV in front of millions of viewers; An author made it the subject of his best-selling book-turned-blockbuster-movie. A popular hotel/casino in Las Vegas has a coin-operated system installed that generates more income than most of its black/jack tables; There are even some fast food restaurants that have installed VR systems, to capitalize on the guaranteed, magnetic draw of such an incredible attraction.

What is VIRTUAL REALITY? Quite simply, it is nothing less than a technology that can virtually re-create reality—every sight, sound, smell, touch and sensation of any human experience can be duplicated, "cloned," with a system that simulates all the sensations of the Real McCoy, and allows a subject (you, for example) to experience and enjoy the little episode as if you were really there; no human being can tell the difference.

Scientists and researchers have actually discovered "the building blocks" of sensory perception, and more incredibly, are able to recreate, or "clone" those patterns, resulting in an experience so indistinguishable from the real thing, that it has been dubbed "VIRTUAL REALITY." Since the mind's conscious interpretation of incoming stimulus is what determines the nature of human experience, this means that actual events in human experience can be synthesized, re-created at will, to be "re-played" at any time, with any subject (you), like today's video cassettes, but on a far more realistic level.

As a medium of entertainment, however, its implications were truly astounding. Imagine being able to "relive" any situation you desire, whenever you want, as often as you want to? Imagine "custom tailoring" a sexual experience to your own stringent requirements—every detail, every nuance—exactly the way you like it. Not only that, but also available whenever you want it, as often as your body can handle it! Gay or straight, the subject matter is at your total command; the only limitation is the human imagination. Are you beginning to grasp the phenomenal scope of this discovery?

<sup>66</sup> We've discovered that our imaginations are like high-powered race cars and in the land of Virtual Reality, there are no speed limits, no stop signs, and you never run out of gas . . . <sup>69</sup>
Betty Jo and Darryl Sanderson, Spokane, WA*

A consultant named Peter Webber, whose firm had been contracted by major movie studios to research new entertainment technologies came upon this systems at a trade show. In a brainstorm, he realized an as-yet-untapped area that would be an instant hit: SEXUAL EXPERIENCES IN VIRTUAL REALITY—so detailed, so true-to-life, it would be a perfect "clone" of the real thing. Every voluptuous curve of the perfect sex partner would be recreated to your specifications; that indescribable "tingling" in your groin; every sensation of a totally satisfying sexual experience—exactly duplicated—indistinguishable from the real thing.

If the magnificent implications of SEXUAL EXPERIENCES IN VR are still not clear, let's make a simple comparison between REAL SEX EXPERIENCE and CYBERSEX VR SIMULATOR EXPERIENCE:

REAL SEX

1. You may never have an experience with the "partner of your dreams."
2. Frequency often depends on mood and receptiveness of female partner.
3. Risk of pregnancy/disease can interfere and dampen pleasure.
4. Infrequent/not always available.
5. Finding and seducing partners can be very expensive.
6. For your pursuit, you need a nice car, a nice pad, nice clothes, and plenty of money.

CYBERSEX

1. You can enjoy your "dream partner" any time you want.
2. Frequency depends entirely on you; The words "no" and "headache" do not exist in virtual reality.
3. The safest and most satisfying sexual encounters known to man—always.
4. How often can you handle it?
5. For unlimited experiences, you incur a one time charge that costs less than dinner and a movie.
6. You need only an electrical outlet.

Please note—Virtual reality experience is entirely dependent on the orientation of the user—gay, straight, bisexual, groups, "kinky," or whatever—there is no sexual discrimination in virtual reality!

Perhaps the most wonderful thing about technology is that it constantly seeks to improve upon itself. A decade ago, video cassette recorders cost in excess of $1,000; today they are little more than a tenth of that. And the same is true of Virtual Reality technology; the components that used to cost thousands of dollars can now be had for far less. This fact, coupled with the tremendous resources available to our movie and entertainment industry, make the time "ripe" for a breakthrough of this nature. After 3 years of intensive research, Webber developed the CYBERSEX HOME VR—SIMULATOR SYSTEM. So that the marvels of this new technology could be appreciated first hand by consumers in the privacy of their own homes, at an affordable price.

<sup>68</sup> Comparing a conventional videotape and a stereo system to a VR (virtual reality) system is like comparing a tricycle to a jet plane. <sup>69</sup>

Kyle Miller, Nashville, TN*

So why isn't this miraculous "DREAM MACHINE"—available on a mass level?

It's simple—the "giants" of consumer electronics don't want to release the goodies yet. They have to keep the price in the stratosphere, to "milk" the consumers, just like they did with VCR's CD players, and every other new development they've come out with.

But it doesn't have to be that way—not this time. Take advantage of this invitation to buy direct. Try out our CYBERSEX HOME VR SIMULATOR SYSTEM. Find out what the noise is all about, and why the whole world is buzzing. We'll ship you the genuine article, lock-stock-and-barrel, ready to use and experience, for only $24.95 each. Or, if you prefer our multi person system will enable you to take that special person or persons through your journey to sexual ecstasy. The price of the multi person system is only $39.95 each. We've got the only system of its kind, right here in the movie capital of the world, ready to ship direct to you; we alone have found a way to deliver a system like this one for this price. Order yours today!

Is the pimp's pimp so they say
Making cold, hard cash
Peddling hot street gash
It's like Christmas every day!

Ah, sweet Yuletide melodies. Harken the good tidings and the music of holiday cheer, as choirs the world over rhapsodize the majesty of Christmas.

That's right: It's time for all those bullshit songs about reindeer and mistletoe again.

This year, HUSTLER spins the season's classics to unveil the true message behind the surface sentiment: Spend more money on sex.

Happy holidays from the realists at HUSTLER.

LITTLE BUMMER BOY

Son, they told me,
Come pump a plum bum
An old rich queen to see
Come pump a plum bum
He really dug my jock
Come pump a plum bum
As he cruised 'round the docks
Come pump a plum bum
Pump a plum bum
Pump a plum bum

In his Mercedes
Come pump a plum bum
We did it several ways
Come pump a plum bum
He banged me everywhere
Come pump a plum bum
I chewed his pubic hair
Come pump a plum bum
Pump a plum bum
Pump a plum bum

Fifty easy bucks
For pumping plum bum
But now life really sucks
Don't pump no plum bums
Each night, in pain, I moan
From being pumped in the bum
I've got gay bowel syndrome
From being pumped in the bum
Pumped in the bum
Pumped in the bum
Pumped in the bum
...Plus a case of the runs

SLACKER SEX

THE LAZIEST LAYS OF THE LAND

By Alex Marvel

Restrictive attitudes in the name of so-called morality increasingly take the fun out of fucking. Through good, old-fashioned homespun knowledge, hearsay, scientific facts and outright lies, this series strives to spread the word that rubbing uglies is a beautiful experience.

Jimmy and Carla, sprawled naked and joined at the pelvis on their floor-level futon, would make an attractive photograph. The low, off-blue light of a mute TV screen washes flatteringly across the soft contours and alluring angles of Carla's narrow hips, Bambi legs, nectar-full breasts and slack-jawed, hood-eyed face. Suffused in the cathode glow, even Jimmy, with his languid matchstick-boy physique and alterna-rocker hair, looks sort of good. Jimmy and Carla form a very pretty still-life picture together, but there's one problem: They are supposed to be fucking.

"You do it," whispers Jimmy, shrugging his crotch and sighing from the effort.

Carla yawns, looking inside to summon the strength to reply, "I did it last time; it's your turn."

"Are you sure?" wonders Jimmy. "But I got up to get you an OK cola."

The couple, though interlinked, forsake all motion.

"You got me an OK cola, but I'm the one who got us this far," protests Carla as Jimmy's stiff loses its grip and slips from her stuff. "I always suck you. You could at least finish it."

"Do you know where the remote is?" ponders Jimmy. "I can't hear the TV."

"It's right here, on the floor."

"Hand it to me, will you?"

"I got it last time."

"Amotivated Libido Syndrome [ALS] is not unknown to medical science," boasts Dr. Linus Appalling, a double

Ph.D. with twin doctoral theses in declining civilizations and aberrant sexuality. "The research community is, of course, familiar with loss of interest in copulation due to compulsive narcotics usage, clinical depression or the stressful anxiety brought about by studying for the bar exam. Individual renunciations of the erotic self are not dangerous to society as a whole. What we find alarming is a trend wherein entire demographic groups seem to feel that the act of coitus is simply not worth the necessary energy expenditure."

Dr. Appalling's moping droves of orgasmic under-achievers, like the entire slacker, reality-biting Generation X, defy easy categorization, and the crotch-numbing malady strikes with no regard for ethnic or financial background. Many ALS sufferers, for example, are actually in their 40s or older, members of the so-called Boomer market share.

"The reason all these people don't fuck," opines Chet Frier, publisher of Digress, a stylish magazine devoted to surface fads, "is that sex reminds them of work. These bastards are, quite literally, too lazy to do anything more than sit back and get head. Hey, they're young, they're old, black, white, rich, poor; what they all have in common is a something-for-nothing mentality. Their coddling parents or the government, subsidized by my taxes, gave them everything they ever needed without exacting any effort in return. Now they think they're entitled to an orgasm without getting off their flat asses to earn it."

Jodi Thanatos was stricken with ALS at the age of 14, and she disagrees with publisher Frier in regard to the origin of her chronic condition. "I haven't put out during intercourse—I mean, I've been penetrated and even experienced the rare climax—but I haven't really put out for almost ten years, ever since I first saw R.E.M. and the Smiths on MTV. That doesn't mean I'm lazy. I'm just more sensitive than these recreational-sex people are. I don't know how they can be blind to the fact that existence is an inward spiral of futility and defeat. They just go on fucking as if sex is an extension of their aerobics class. That kind of activity has never accomplished anything."

Otto DeFay, Ms. Thanatos's lover of 13 months, has, like her, had the impact robbed from his orgasm by a dreary worldview that is cultivated and validated by his choices for cultural enrichment. "The superficial pundits at Digress magazine haven't got a clue. I'd like to see one of them listen to the new Beck record six times a day like Jodi and I do, and then have enough dick left over to pull down their pants and do a whoopee."

During its infancy, rock 'n' roll music was excoriated for its power to incite lewd behavior. Today, the extension of that same musical genre is being blamed for the spread of ALS. Johnny Jumpup, a rock critic and freelance anthropologist who hasn't been laid since Aerosmith got sober but who makes up for that deficit with the vigorous and frequent exercising of his right-hand digits, believes the ALS virus is being piped into millions of American homes every day, via cable television. "MTV, though peppered with snippets of saucy strumpets in sleazy garb and settings, is the softest of soft-core snores," writes Jumpup in a recent editorial for the Louder Dude Review. "Attempts to jerk off to this all-commercials-all-the-time network will only result in harm to the stroker. Any desire for a gratuitous orgasm that has survived AIDS will be destroyed by MTV. Just look at it: A nouveau-prude parade of posturing no-balls minstrels—Beck, Smashing Pumpkins, Blind Melon, Counting Crows, Lisa Leob—and their pudenda-wilting sounds, erotically vapid visuals and soft-off sentiments. It's a wonder that any of us still has a life force."

"I don't know about that," equivocates DeFay, resignedly looking into an empty cigarette pack. "First of all, the fact that I don't care if I get laid isn't even a problem. And also, MTV had nothing to do with it. I've been watching MTV for a lot longer than I've known Jodi. When we first met, we had sex a lot, sometimes as much as three times a week. Jodi and I are evolved souls. We're not animals driven by primitive urges and adolescent appetites. Naturally, our relationship has been elevated to a higher reality."

Chet Frier, publisher of Digress, sees a problem where Jodi Thanatos and Otto DeFay see progress. "Jodi and Otto are swimming in denial," states Frier bluntly. "After an initial rush of infatuation with a fresh fuckmate, a normal couple's compulsion to bone all day and night levels off, but they still do it. Normal couples, after their honeymoon period, jockey and fight for dominance within the relationship. Much of that sparring plays out in bed where it keeps things interesting. Slacker non-fucks, on the other hand, start off with a few sluggish couplings and soon devolve into volitionless avoidance. Instead of clashing for position with their partners, slacker nonfucks stage a battle of will-lessness. They'd never fuck at all except that they're too lazy to jack off. They're chronically bored, unenthused, tired, noncommittal and lame. They take no joy out of life, and they don't put anything back either. But they don't see that as a problem. Pathetic bastards."

Dr. Linus Appalling, showing a greater sympathy to the ALS-afflicted masses than does Frier, is gravely concerned. "We in the declining-civilizations research community use historical precedent as a forecasting tool. When we see a time period during which ALS-type symptoms proliferate among large segments of a population that should be in its breeding prime, then we can pretty much predict that a cataclysmic wave is about to crash the shores of current events."

After taking a few deep breaths and chewing up half a box of Maalox, Dr. Appalling goes on to explain that ALS is known to have been epidemic twice before in the history of the United States. The first recorded outbreak occurred shortly after the World's Fair of 1910. The next flair-up came during the 1930s. "I can't prove it," seethes Appalling, "but if they'd been keeping track of sexual apathy trends in the 1850s, ALS would have shown up then too, declining sharply with the onset of the Civil War." Appalling's point is that America's second decade of the 1900s and much of the 1930s were plagued with economic depression. In theory, the country's endemic financial malaise, with its enforced lassitude and overabundance of unstructured time, infected the general populace's attitudes in all aspects of life, including the sexual. Conversely, the national libido picked up and flourished throughout the first and second world wars.

"The Great Depression doldrums," sighs Appalling, "were by all accounts even more severe than the current unacknowledged worldwide recession, but not so much more severe. The frightening fact is that only an orgy of death will rouse the species once it has slipped into libido torpor. How many must die," he asks rhetorically, "before the ALS-afflicted can fuck again?"

"So, some neurotic egghead thinks civilization is doomed unless me and Otto strap it on two times a day," intones Jodi Thanatos, her attention momentarily diverted from her 58th viewing of MTV's Nirvana Unplugged special. "Who's to say this civilization is worth saving in the first place? Even a 7-Eleven Big Gulp is finished eventually."

"That attitude will kill us all," rants rock scribe/anthropologist Johnny Jumpup, contacted in his personalized cubicle at Stan's XXX Emporium on L.A.'s seedy but vibrant Western Avenue. "I try to do my bit and fuck as often as I can, but the carnal opportunities just aren't there for music critics. Unless the screwless, clueless dipwads get up and pork, the world will go to war with nuclear weapons. Mankind will perish in the next global conflict. C'mon, people, do the nasty! Sex is the only thing between us and the Armageddon you all claim is at the root of your passivity. Fuck you, or I'll fuck you for you."

OFF THE RECORD: CONSPIRACIES IN THE CLINTON ERA

REPORT BY KENN THOMAS

CONSPIRACY THEORISTS PIECE
TOGETHER THE HIDDEN LINKS IN CHAINS OF EVENTS TO GET A MORE ACCURATE PICTURE OF HISTORY. FOR THESE UNRAVELERS OF SECRET TIES,
THE PUZZLE BEHIND BILL CLINTON'S
UNSpoken LOYALTIES IS THIS: IS THE
PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR OR AGAINST AMERICA?

Off the Record

This money's disbursement is a part of a "century-old plan to end national sovereignty, consolidate all currency and institute the Global State."

"As a teenager I heard John Kennedy's summons to citizenship. And then, as a student at Georgetown, I heard that call clarified by a professor named Carroll Quigley, who said to us that America was the greatest nation in history because our people have always believed two things: that tomorrow can be better than today, and that every one of us has a personal, moral responsibility to make it so."

—from Bill Clinton's acceptance speech to the Democratic National Convention, 1992

Georgetown University professor Carroll Quigley has been frequently cited by President Clinton as his political mentor—his counselor, guide and tutor. In referencing Quigley regularly throughout his presidential campaign—and virtually enshrining him at the Democratic National Convention—Bill Clinton invited political analysts to view Quigley's perceptions as the touchstone of the new administration's governing philosophy. The Quigley sentiments Clinton so often quotes, however, differ in spirit from the professor's published views.

In common with members of the ultra-right John Birch Society, Carroll Quigley, who died in 1977, believed that world events are steered by a secret cabal of like-minded billionaire financiers, including Rockefellers, Rothschilds and Morgans. Unlike the John Birch Society, however, Quigley was not critical of the super-cabal. Rather, he viewed it as a "benevolent conspiracy," says Jonathan Vankin, author of Conspiracies, Cover-Ups and Crimes.

Quigley considered it his duty as a worthy academician to describe, explain and praise to his students this unpublicized arrangement of international affairs. He outlined his perceived conspiracy in a lengthy book, Tragedy and Hope. In acknowledgement of Quigley's high standing as a political analyst, the John Birch Society lists Tragedy and Hope as partial proof of the monied interests behind the Trilateral Commission, a fraternal business organization made up primarily of Japanese, European and American financiers, and the Council on Foreign Relations, among other groups.

In other words, President Bill Clinton's avowed political master believed that the autonomy of nations—including the United States of America—only serves as a sideshow. In Quigley's view, the real political power belongs to the super-rich.

One of the few venues where Quigley's Tragedy and Hope can be purchased today is writer Jim Martin's Flatland book service (P.O.B. 2420, Fort Bragg, CA 95437). According to Martin, Quigley's research for Tragedy and Hope drew heavily on operations conducted by the Rhodes-Milner Group, an organization connected to industrial giants Morgan and Rothschild.

In Tragedy and Hope, Quigley explains that Rhodes-Milner Group founder Cecil Rhodes—one of the world's wealthiest men—was a tycoon bearing enough influence to have a country named after him (Rhodesia), as well as founding and funding the Rhodes scholarships for England's Oxford University. Many prominent world figures have been Rhodes scholars, Bill Clinton being one of the better known.

"The function of the Rhodes scholarships," explains Martin, "is to identify future leaders, instill them with common values at Oxford, and send them back to their native colonies, where they can disseminate these acquired traits."

Tragedy and Hope, according to Martin, documents money given by Rothschild-styled capitalists to left-wing causes and Communists in order to influence and undermine the progression of these factions. The John Birch Society believes this significant money's disbursement is part of a "century old plan to end national sovereignty, consolidate all currency and institute the Global State [a one-nation world ruled by the rich]."

What sort of political conduct would meet Clinton's teacher's approval?

Having studied speeches made by Quigley ten years after Clinton left Georgetown University, researcher Len Bracken believes Quigley viewed democracy as little more than a control mechanism for global-market planning. Bracken quotes Quigley as having this assessment of the American state: "Today everything is a bureaucratic structure, and brainwashed people are trained to fit into this bureaucratic structure and say it is a great life—although I would assume that many on their deathbeds must feel otherwise."

Such sentiments hardly square with the Carroll Quigley who Bill Clinton, the "man of the people," honors; the benevolent professor who, according to Clinton, exhorted Americans to make each tomorrow better than today. However, the

The goings-on in Mena, Arkansas, threatened to implicate Clinton not only with George Bush, but also with Oliver North's covert network.

President has been less than forthcoming on many issues delegated to the private background of his political accession.

In April 1992, Geraldo Rivera's Now It Can Be Told infotainment tabloid reported suspected drug smuggling, money laundering and possible Contra-war troop movements in and out of an obscure airstrip in small-town Mena, Arkansas. Questionable activities at Mena had been written about earlier by national political analyst Alexander Cockburn, and have since been reported by the Village Voice. Before becoming overshadowed by the suicide of Clinton Administration Deputy White House Counsel Vince Foster, the goings-on in Mena threatened to implicate Bill Clinton not only with George Bush, but also with Oliver North's covert network of Contra-fund-raising operatives.

In October 1989 Washington Post columnist Jack Anderson broke the story that a narcotics smuggler named Barry Seal had begun shipping drugs through the Mena airstrip in 1982. The drug-trafficking operation continued beyond Seal's arrest and 1984 drug conviction in Miami, Florida. Seal was negotiating with the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) and representatives of Oliver North's covert Contra network in hopes of trading undercover work against the Sandinistas for legal immunity when a second wave of mysterious businesses descended upon the Intermountain Regional Airport at Mena. Described variously as aircraft-and parts-delivery services, the newly arrived operations engendered suspicions that the airfield was being used not only for drug traffic, but for commando training. After the investigation, the Arkansas state police reported to the U. S. attorney, but expected indictments were never delivered.

In April 1992 University of Arkansas students Mark Swaney and Tom Brown appealed directly to then-governor Bill Clinton to investigate the Mena drug-smuggling rumors. The appeal, along with a call from the Deputy State Prosecuting Attorney for financial assistance to help the state conduct a grand-jury investigation, came to nothing. When Arkansas Congressman Bill Alexander met with Governor Clinton, Clinton informed Alexander that $25,000 in state money had been set aside to investigate Mena. The prosecuting attorney in Mena's Polk County at the time, Joe Hardegree, claims he never received the offer of assistance from the governor's office.

"During my tenure as prosecuting attorney," states Hardegree, "I did not receive $25,000 in state funds, or any part of this amount of money, nor did I hear anything concerning these funds from anyone at the Arkansas state police or anyone in the governor's office."

The IRS investigated Barry Seal's operation in Mena after Seal was murdered in Baton Rouge by Colombian drug traffickers. IRS investigator Bill Duncan claims he was warned off by IRS lawyers, causing him to resign from the IRS and testify before a House committee about all he had learned of money laundering, covert operations and drug smuggling in Mena.

As reported by the Village Voice, the C123 jet carrying Eugene Hassenfus that was shot down over Nicaragua in October 1986, blowing open the Iran-Contra affair, had once been owned by Seal and outfitted at Mena.

In 1988, CIA contract operative Terry Reed was charged with fraud for receiving insurance money on a false claim involving the theft of an airplane he owned.

In trial testimony, Reed claimed that his airplane had been stolen as part of an Oliver North-styled project called "Private Donation," wherein big-ticket-item "donations" to the Contra cause were filed as lost or stolen with insurance companies and then reimbursed. Reed claimed to have had no knowledge of the Private Donation project at the time of his plane's disappearance, and so reported it as a legitimate loss.

The plane reappeared after Reed learned of the Donation project and warned his contacts in the Oliver North-controlled network that he would have no part of it. The person who located the reappeared airplane was the security chief for Governor Clinton, Buddy Young. Young admitted to tampering with the plane, and charges against Reed were dropped.

Questions about then-governor Clinton's knowledge of these widely reported, nefarious operations going on in his down-home backyard have long since been eclipsed. Could Clinton's fragile political image withstand a renewed scrutiny of the unresolved problems at Mena?

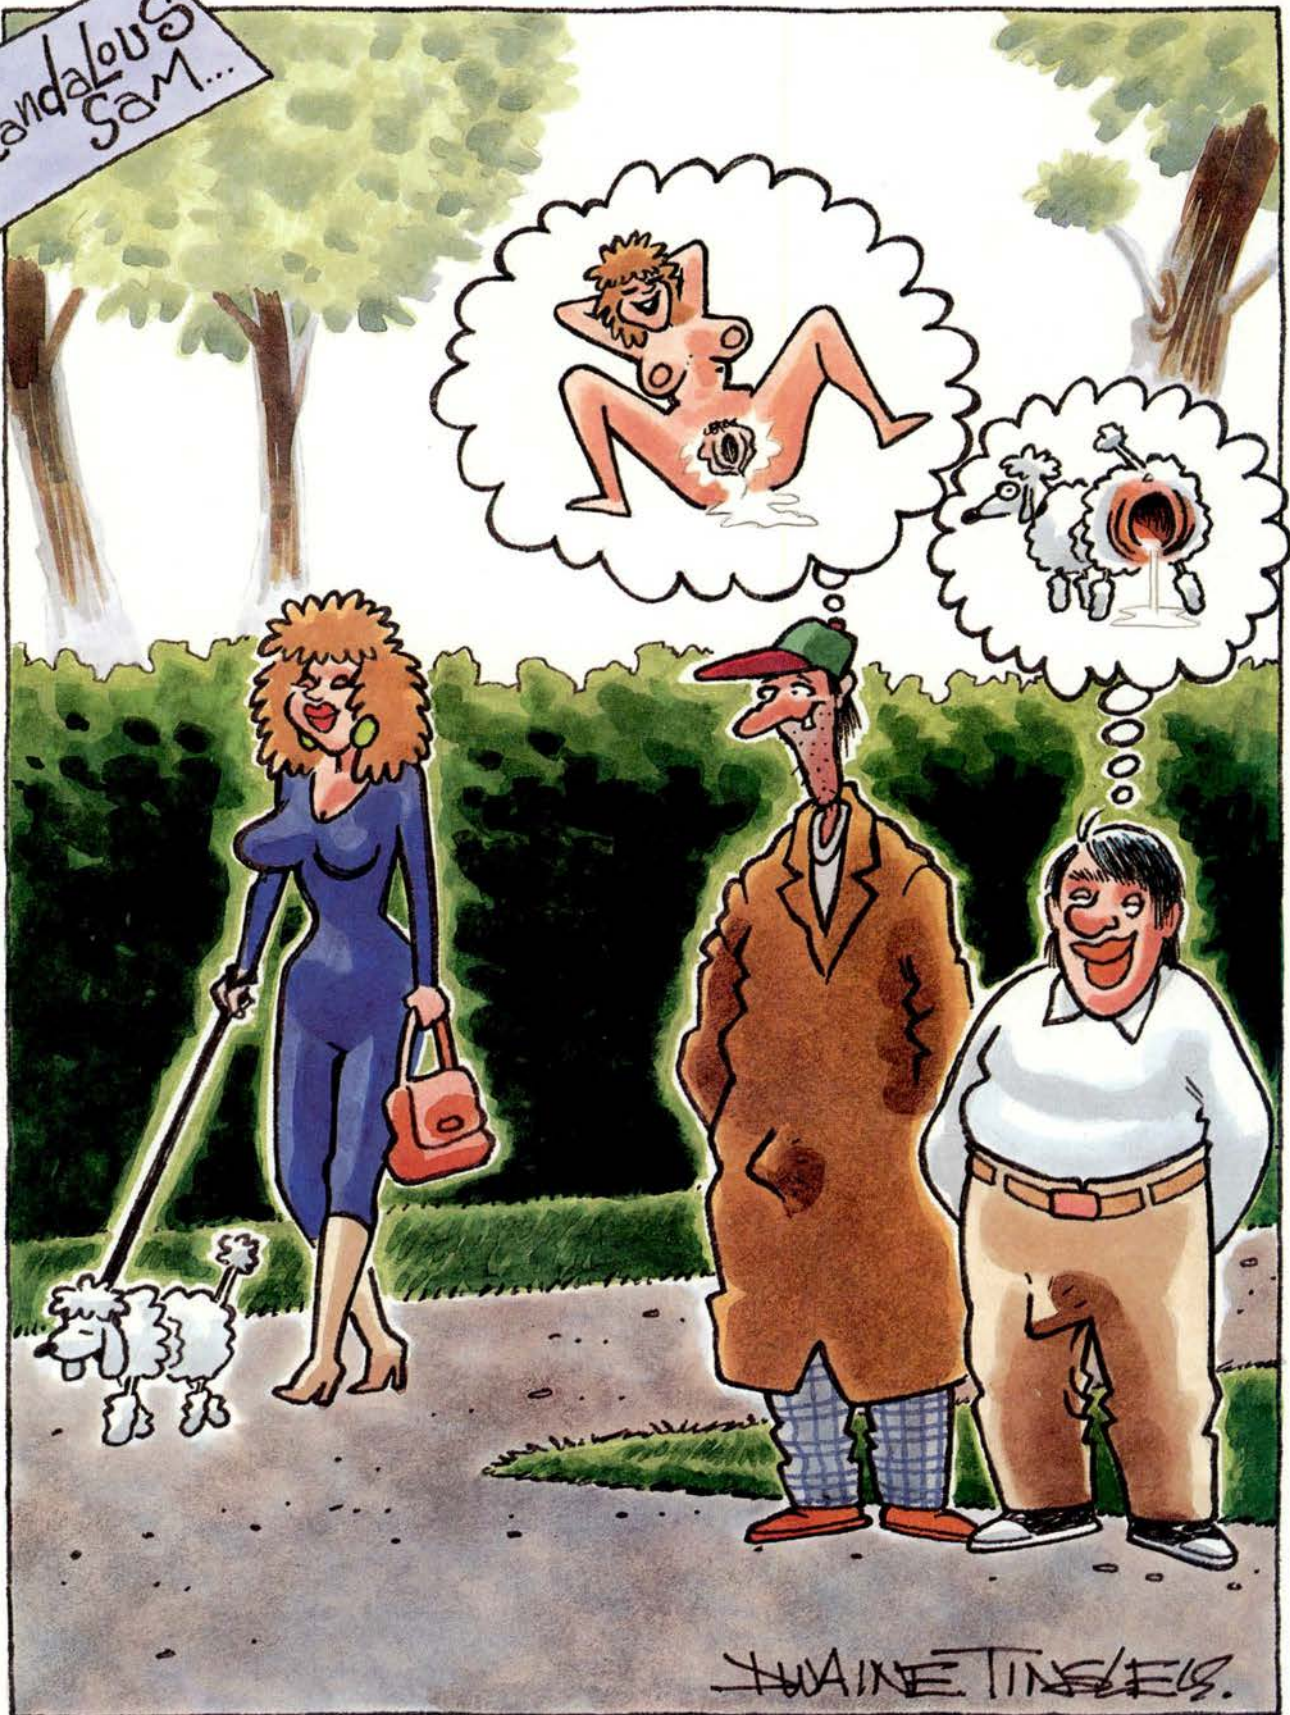

The suicide of Deputy White House Counsel Vincent W. Foster in July 1993 left not only a sad legacy of a lost friend for President Clinton but a quagmire of conspiratorial possibilities. The circumstances of the death—a wound inflicted by an untraceable antique gun—were quickly overshadowed by questions of motive and charges of investigative obstruction.

Skolnick speculates that Foster planned to urge the President to forestall a supposed Iraqi/CIA plan to murder Saddam Hussein—a plot reported by the Chicago Tribune.

Files removed from Foster's office two days after his death reportedly documented not only Clinton's involvement with the Whitewater Development Corporation, but information on James B. McDougal, a Whitewater partner and owner of the failed S&L Madison Guaranty Savings and Loan. Conspiracy theorists connect the scandal to longstanding links between Clinton, George Bush and the Atlanta branch of the Italian state bank, Banca Nazionale Del Lavoro (BNL).

Veteran conspiracy analyst Sherman Skolnick theorizes that Foster died trying to prevent the assassination of Saddam Hussein. Skolnick, whose Citizen's Committee To Clean Up the Courts provides a telephone recording (312-731-1100) detailing current civil-rights issues involving governmental abuse, claims that the White House registry records a July appointment with Vince Foster, a meeting

Foster did not live to attend. Skolnick speculates that Foster planned to urge the President to forestall a supposed Iraqi/CIA plan to murder Saddam Hussein. The plot against Hussein has been reported by the Chicago Tribune.

According to Skolnick's scenario, Foster's motive was to prevent Hussein's half-brother from releasing bank records revealing the extent of Clinton's and Bush's involvement with BNL. In September 1993, an official at the Atlanta, Georgia, branch of BNL named Christopher Drogoul had been convicted of laundering money used in Hussein's military build-up before the Persian Gulf War. Coincidentally or not, the BNL had figured in the JFK assassination in a 23-year-old paper known as the Torbitt Document, which alleged in 1970 that BNL had financed the training of the hit team used against Kennedy.

Do Kennedy and Clinton conspiracy theories cross?

Observers lit candles to mark the 30th anniversary of President John F. Kennedy's assassination at the November 1993 night vigil at Dealey Plaza in Dallas, Texas, an event organized by Citizens for the Truth about the Kennedy Assassination (CTKA) as part of the Assassination Symposium on Kennedy [ASK], an annual convention of researchers who feel the Warren Commission findings fall short of the truth. At the memorial vigil, CTKA head Jim DiEugenio advised participants to hold on to their candles for the day Bill Clinton would come to Dealey Plaza to lead an effort to expose the conspiracy behind Kennedy's murder. During his presidential campaign, Clinton deferred to Al Gore on the question of a possible anti-Kennedy conspiracy, and Gore appeared sympathetic to the cause.

However, the Clinton Administration effectively emasculated the Assassination Materials Review Act of 1992 by dragging its feet in making nominations to the review board. Clinton's sluggish nominating process used up one year of the board's proscribed two-year existence. The last of those nominated was announced in November 1993, and all of the nominations awaited a lengthy congressional-approval process. One nominee suggested to the St. Louis Post Dispatch that he had gleaned an opinion about Oswald as lone gunman from an episode of TV's Frontline, broadcast two weeks earlier.

President Clinton finally spoke on the matter during his press conference on the anniversary day of Kennedy's death: In Clinton's estimation, Lee Harvey Oswald had acted alone. The delay in appointing members to the Assassination Materials Review board was ascribed to the changeover in presidential administrations.

Questions are as important as answers to conspiracy theorists. During the 1992 presidential campaign, Bill Clinton raised himself into the highest leadership position in the world by capitalizing on the supposed fundamental differences between his political views and George Bush's—differences, Clinton maintained, that would greatly benefit the nation.

Inferred cooperation between Clinton and Bush over illegal Contra-benefitting operations in Arkansas, and possible joint investments in the Banca Nazionale Del Lavoro—one of whose chief executives was convicted of money-laundering for Saddam Hussein—raise hard questions for all U.S. citizens, Democrat and Republican. If the answers verify the global plutocracy as preached by Clinton's political mentor, Carroll Quigley, voters must reassess every White House occupant. In a world controlled by the rich and powerful, could any President have America's best interests at heart?

"Witherspoon, I thought we might have a little chat about corporate image."

"Chanelle and I just can't keep our hands off each other, even in public," declares sun-darkened Charlotte, generously demonstrating.

"It's true," agrees naturally cocoa Chanelle, glancing up from between her companion's thighs. "And if you think straight mixed-race couples get stared at, you should see the gawkers we get."

Could all that attention simply be due to their luscious figures and stunning faces?

"Well... maybe," Charlotte reluctantly concedes. "Just the same, every chance we get, Chanelle and I escape up here, where only the sun is our witness."

The Stupendous Excesses of Madrid's King Fat

Profile by Walker Martin

His occupation: booking American bands in Madrid, Spain. His hobby: ruining American band members.

His weapons: strong coffee, weak coke whores and an endless supply of Peruvian flake with cognac back. Meet Quique, the King of Malasaña and prepare to be ruined.

Retches of Spain

The ditz snorts a line and hunkers down, searching for his cock. Her hands probe, wrist-deep in blubber. She sucks. His head snaps back against the door. "Me cago en Dios!"

"I'm gonna ruin you!"

Squish! A hard-boiled egg plastered with mayonnaise disappears inside a tiny pink island in a windswept sea of flesh.

"Like a man!" adds the rippling hulk of bodily exorbitance, guzzling caña, a short draft beer, before smacking over a plate of anchoas, inch-wide anchovies fermented in olive oil and garlic. He drops a whole fish in his mouth. Like a man.

Eleven in the evening is dinner time in Madrid, Spain. Dried-up old men, punk rockers and quizzical tourists squeeze inside the phone-booth-wide Bar Santander, renowned for its array of tapas—a kind of Spanish hors d'oeuvres. Pounds of jamón serrano (chili ham), chorizo (sausage) and croquetas (meat-stuffed pastry)—all cheap, all delicious—disappear into the throng of ravenous gullets.

Boisterous pijos (someone who spends more money on clothes than on drugs) carouse around the corner in the Plaza Chueca, a haven for junkies and transvestites. In the other direction, just across Calle Fuencarral, lies Malasaña, a neighborhood generally described as dangerous. Tourist books call it sleazy. Late every night in Malasaña, la marcha grinds out a twisted tour through tiny cobblestone streets. Peppered with bars blaring rock 'n' roll music, the barrio is compared by locals to Disneylandia. Malasaña makes the rest of Madrid—the capital of night life in Europe—look like a retirement village.

La marcha means, literally, "the march," but more than that, it means action. La marcha is the night that melts into day. Discotecas in Malasaña stay open until four the next day, throbbing with teenagers wired on cheap speed or tripis (LSD). Cocaine werewolves ramble into singles joints after sunrise, angling for a pickup and another line. In a country that closes shop daily for a three-hour siesta, there is energy to burn.

Just after midnight, the fat man at the Santander demands carajillos, a blood-dizzying cocktail of coffee, cognac and sugar. Upon torching the steam-heated cognac with his lighter, the barkeep drips thick, black coffee onto the blue alcohol flame. A well-made carajillo can turn an invalid into a superman. It is the perfect jolt to begin la marcha.

Looking something like 40 years old, this swag-bellied Malasaño wears shoulder-length fringe and shrub-like sideburns dyed an ultrafake hue of jet black. After pounding beers and tapas nonstop for more than an hour, his sopping wet face is as brightly rosy as a Marlboro pack. He may eat, drink and drug himself to a coronary arrest, but he tells with pride the three things he swears he'll never do: skydive, take it up the ass and eat vegetables. Those in the know nod sagely. This is no ordinary Spaniard. This is A Man. This is the King of Malasaña.

* * *

"We go see the Peruvian Witch Doctor now. Take drugs like men!"

Quique (pronounced KEE-kay) barrels out of the bar, stomach-pummeling passersby en route. "Get out my way! Fooking hippies!" He's showing off. That's what kings do—kings and rock promoters. Quique is both. Besides booking bands from labels such as Seattle's Sub Pop into Madrid clubs, Quique sings in his own band, the Supper Stars.

Playing a gig organized by this Malasaña maestro is easy on none of these things: the liver, the brain and the wallet. Quique proudly "ruins" young rock musicians. It makes no difference to him if the cocaine he inhales is rumored to have been bought with skimmed box office earnings; he pooh-poohs the charge that he fails to get a hotel for the band, using the allotted money to pay his phone bill instead.

"No one is going to sleep tonight!" he proclaims. Like all immense bodies, Quique's gravitational field cannot be escaped. Again and again, the "ruined" bands come back. From Seattle to New York, the story spreads: Somewhere in Madrid is a drug-peddling, smelly-belly Buddha who ruins rock bands. Find him, and you won't regret it. Not for more than a few days, that is.

Tonight the King is paying special court. A Sub Pop band is in town, fresh from playing a music festival south of Madrid in Andalucía. The last time they were in Madrid, they worked a show for Quique. The marcha Quique led them on ended at 10 a.m. in the bathroom of a Malasaña discotheque where the bandmates took turns getting blown by a couple of Spanish airline stewardesses. The boys did not make it to their next gig. They were successfully "ruined."

First stop on the tour tonight is La Cigüeña (The Stork). At 1 a.m., it's still early. Partiers at the bar warm up with coscorones (slammers made with tequila and lemon soda). Quique grunts. Impossible to understand, his Spanish accent is as heavy as his enormous body. It doesn't help that he insists on speaking faster than the speed of sound. He motions with his hands: A drink. But Quique doesn't wait to be served; he has business to attend to—snuffling towering lines of uncut flake in the ladies' can. Awaiting his return is his usual drink: vodka and orange soda in a pint glass, mixed two-to-one in favor of the liquor. Gllummp! He motions for another.

"You see that girl? She suck my cock like a mouth of bubble gum," gurgles the King. "She's a whore coke." He waves a few stubby digits. The girl comes over. Black leather complements her olive skin. Quique prattles, smiles and touches his button nose. Moments later he's again chopping lines in the ladies' room, jamming his jelly butt against the door to stave off intruders. The girl—who claims to have been the "Spanish wife" of legendary guitarist, Johnny Thunders of New York Dolls/Heartbreakers fame—burrows under a smothering shelf of flab for Quique's belt buckle. His colossal Levi's snap, billowing to the ground in the fetid air like a denim spinnaker. Shhmppph! The ditz snorts a line and hunkers down, searching for his cock. Her hands probe, wrist-deep in blubber.

She sucks. Quique groans. His head snaps back against the door. "Me cago en Diós!" ("I shit on God!") he proclaims.

Satisfied, Quique pushes her away. Apparently there is another thing the fat guy does quickly, aside from eat and drink and snort. If those harmful activities don't give him a heart attack, it might come from the exertion of bending down to pull up his pants.

One of the players in Quique's band is a former "nice boy from California" who now calls himself "Bile Nimoy" and who pounds a guitar in the shadow of Quique's expansive ass.

Bile recalls a typical Supper Stars performance at El Tiburon (The Shark), a long, dark bar with Day-Glo pornography painted on the ceiling and the foulest toilet in Malasaña: a bucket in a hole in the ground behind a shower curtain.

There wasn't a lot of room onstage for the fat guy to operate; so Quique performed not only to, but from, the audience. Hollering, screaming, playing bumper cars with his gut, the King returned to the stage only to cop his bottle of Stoli, which was dry by the third number.

"He was just sitting there watching Pat Robertson when suddenly his head caved in!"

By the time the Supper Stars ripped into the final song of the night, an ear-bruising "Louie, Louie," Quique was lipping his third vodka bottle, weaving so violently that he forced the crowd to retreat to make room for his girth. From the spacious planes of his red, puffy face, sweat didn't glisten; it poured. A look of bleary urgency came into his screwed-up eyes, signifying a terrible development: Quique was going to hurl.

The congregation of drunks attempted to flee. There was no exit. Thankfully, in a magnanimous gesture befitting ralphing royalty, Quique spun wildly, grabbed the bass drum and proceeded to fill its sonorous cavity with hot vomit.

Undisturbed, the Supper Stars' drummer continued to pump the drum pedal as Quique evacuated 2½ liters of vodka, a T-bone steak, several potatoes, a bottle of wine, three servings of flan and an undetermined quantity of gastric juice into the 22-inch tub. A show business pro, Quique held onto the microphone. If the people in the back of the club couldn't see what was happening, they could certainly hear it. Soon enough, they would be able to smell it.

Moments later the King curled up like a kitten around his makeshift vomitorium, snoring loudly. With the microphone resting in front of his nose, he continued vocalizing over the P.A. It required no less than eight of Quique's acolytes to get him to his feet and to the bar, where he blindly pulled out his wallet and assembled a mountain of white. A glitter-eyed girl handed him a rolled up bill. Whoosh! The King then chugalugged a pint of vodka and orange the bartender provided. His nurses were in awe.

"Now I got some attitude!" screamed Quique at no one in particular. "I'm gonna ruin you!"

A guy in the corner nervously tokes on a joint, waiting to buy coke from Quique. Suddenly the fat guy's voice booms over a Misfits record: "Who ees smoking that fooking hippie sheet? Get out here that fooking sheet!" The pot-head cringes with embarrassment. Quique takes his money and gives him a small bundle. "Take drugs like a man," he commands.

Filling up, La Cigüeña offers no sign of Quique's Sub Pop friends. King and court move to the next bar. The march is on.

Punkers and pijos vie for street space. Camellos (Arab hash dealers) keep half in the shadows, one eye on prospective buyers, one out for the cops.

A few meters away from La Cigüeña, patrons enter the El Burro bar only after ringing a bell and passing identification.

Leaving a bar at 7 a.m. without shades is more dangerous than sticking it to Johnny Thunders's self-proclaimed ex-wife without a rubber. There is only one thing to do: have another drink.

Packed, the room swirls with smoke from porros (hash-and-tobacco joints). Hardcore thrash music spills from huge speakers. "You know," Quique mutters, appraising the room sadly. "It used to be crazy here."

According to Malasaña perspectives, before the Olympics and the U.S. basketball "Dream Team" came to Barcelona, and before the Expo came to Seville, Madrid was happier, meaning more licentious. Tourist money and the international promotion brought the heat. Nowadays, by allowing open drug use in the bars, bar owners risk steep fines. Largely ignored but well-posted signs warn bargoers that the on-premises use of estupificantes is strictly prohibited.

Quique spots his Seattle band friends at El Burro. "I ruin you! I ruin you!" yells the fat man, pushing his way through the crowd. "I ruin you! You did not make it the next gig, you were ruined!" Quique revels in crippling the business prospects of whatever club books a band fresh from Madrid. The Sub Pop group he is rushing to greet isn't the only touring band who couldn't make the gig scheduled after la marcha.

Moments later, Quique and the band exit the women's room with anesthetized noses. Naturally, the lads are enchanted. They've only been in Madrid for a few hours, and already the fat guy has stuffed them full of dangerous drugs.

"So, uh, Quique, what happened to the girls we were with the last time we were here?"

"We find some girls, man."

The King of Malasaña won't be ordered around. He physically removes the deejay from the disc jockey booth and plants himself in front of the turntables. His fat fingers paw through the house record collection, pulling out his favorite '70s glam rock: T. Rex, Gary Glitter, Suzi Quatro. Spinning and mixing, Quique doesn't have the patience to hear any one song; instead, he assembles a mush of sweet, sequined sound. The well-positioned booth is good for business. People visit. Money changes hands—mostly from others' to Quique's. The line for the women's room grows like an ant trail at a picnic.

After boggling minds and dispensing a mountain of  $C_{17}H_{21}NO_4$  in tiny parcels, Mix Master Quique shuffles out of the booth and grabs his posse. Time for another bar. Marcha!

On the way to Sookie, a biker bar on the next corner, one of the band boys makes a nearly fatal mistake.

"Is the Prado Museum open tomorrow?" he asks.

The King is appalled. In 15 years of living in Madrid, Quique has been inside the Prado exactly once. He was walking by and had to take a dump. "Fooking faggot art shit, man. Mierda!" There will be no more talk of Madrid's cultural offerings.

Quique wasn't always so fat. As a teenager in Basque country, he didn't weigh more than 200 pounds.

Located in northern Spain, along the French border, Basque communities speak an ancient language that bears no resemblance to any known tongue. "Beti gogor, beti moskor!" is their motto: "Always drinking, always strong." Arrested in the '70s for protesting Spanish dictator Francisco Franco's policy of suppressing Spain's autonomous cultures, Quique moved to Madrid and became a rock critic, hosting his own radio show, La Hora de la Cena (Dinner Time).

Rewarded with a pink slip after writing a 40,000-word ode to the Blue Oyster Cult, which he termed "the greatest bunch of Jews ever," jobless Quique formed a band and commenced peddling the pricey marching powder. Royal blood, along with near-lethal quantities of drugs, commenced pumping through his bloated heart. Thus was born the King.

The back room of the Sookie bar reeks like a Moroccan hash den. Parking his ass in an overstuffed chair, Quique tosses a glassine envelope on the table. Someone else passes a handful of ecstasy around.

"Maybe we should move here," marvels one of the Sup Pop musicians. "Seattle is never like this."

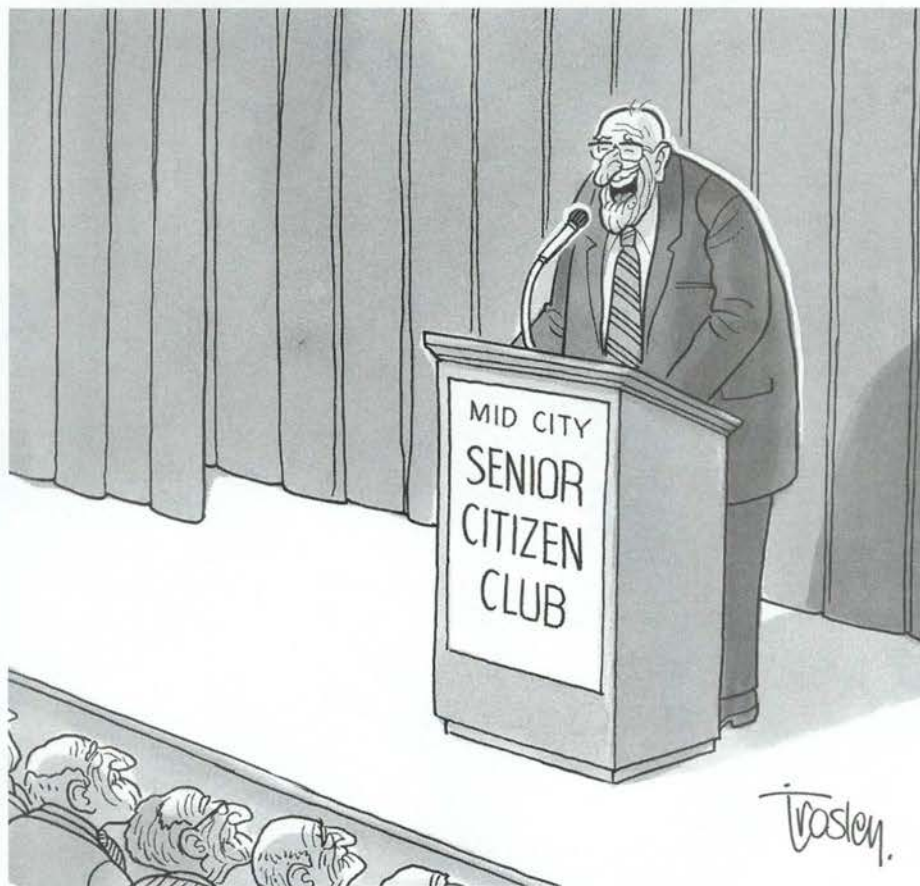

"Don't you think you'd get tired of all of this all the time?" queries another.

"I might die, but no," answers the first. "Beats hell out of a shotgun."

The boys gobble the ecstasy. A cluster of miniskirted girls recognizes the band. The goings-on behind the door marked PRIVATE in Sookie's back room are local legend. Tonight's featured attraction is called Bandmates Get Their Dicks Sucked Free. One by one, the Sub Popers slink out of the musky space, smiling, and collapse into chairs. The King, however, is impatient. "We go!" he commands.

The boys want to stick around. It might be love. A compromise is struck:

"All those in favor of free condoms for seniors, raise your penis."

A woman is lying on her side on a patterned surface, possibly a bed or sofa. She is wearing black lace lingerie, including a bra and stockings. Her hands are resting on her body, and she is wearing black lace gloves. An ornate, dark-colored chair is visible in the background.

Gitana lounges in her bedroom, waiting for one of her married gentleman friends to arrive.

"Here in Spain," says Gitana, "the women are traditionally quiet and self-effacing. That's what our men want—but men get bored with obedience."

As if to illustrate, she tears off the ornate, black-lace bra this particular gentleman has ordered her to wear tonight and kicks it into a corner.

"A real man craves a mistress, not a maid," Gitana asserts. "He needs a woman whose passion matches his own. And I am that woman, as long as he is up for it."

HUSTLER HUMOR

After a lifetime of celibacy, the Pope could stand no more. Sneaking into a secluded corner of the Vatican gardens, the pontiff raised his cassock, begged forgiveness, and manually relieved himself of decades worth of sexual frustration.

Then he was interrupted by the familiar-sounding click of photographs being taken.

The Pope froze in horror as he faced a Japanese tourist snapping one picture after another of this unholy act.

"My child," the Catholic leader pleaded, "I will give you this pinky-ring worth $5,000 in exchange for that camera!"

They made an even trade.

What a relief, the Pope thought as he returned to his chambers. On the way, he ran into one of his chief Cardinals.

"Nice camera," the priest commented.

"It ought to be," the Pope declared. "I just paid $5,000 for it."

"Boy," his associate exclaimed, "whoever sold you that thing must have seen you coming!"

The HUSTLER Dictionary defines lesbian opera singer as: muff diva.

It was the damndest thing," Joe told the bartender. "The wife and I tossed a couple of coins into that wishing well at the end of the road, and then half-a-second later, an 18-wheeler jackknifed and squashed her like a bug."

"That's awful," the barkeep offered in consolation.

"You're telling me," Joe responded. "If I'd known that damn thing worked, I would have taken out a huge insurance policy on her first."

Question: How many Mexicans does it take to grease a car?

Answer: One, if you hit him right.

Doctor Cosgrove, a renowned gynecologist, took one look at his voluptuous new patient and abandoned his professional ethics entirely.

As he stroked the supple skin of her naked body, he asked, "Do you understand what I'm doing?"

"Yes," the patient answered. "You're checking for dermatological abrasions."

"Correct," Cosgrove lied. Next he fondled her breasts long and lovingly. Again, he inquired: "Do you understand what I'm doing?"

"You're feeling for cancerous lumps," she ventured.

"Very astute," the doctor complimented. He placed the woman's feet in stirrups, dropped his pants and slipped his dick inside her. "And do you understand what I'm doing now?"

"All too well," the patient shot back. "You're contracting herpes."

Question: Why did the Jews wander the desert for 40 years?

Answer: Somebody dropped a quarter.

Spike stopped a man walking a three-legged pig on a leash. "Where'd you get such a weird pet?" he asked.

"This pig," the man replied, "is the most amazing animal that ever lived. One night my house caught fire, and he carried my wife and kids to safety, and put the flames out before the fire department got there."

"Wow!" Spike reacted. "But what happened to his...."

"Another time," the guy interrupted, "I was being burglarized, and this pig caught the thief in the act, returned the valuables and summoned the cops before I even got to the bottom of the stairs."

"Incredible," Spike said. "But how come...."

"Then last winter," the fellow burst in, "I fell through some ice, and this pig dragged me out and successfully revived me with CPR."

"Great!" Spike interjected, "but I have to know one thing: How come the pig's only got three legs?"

"A pig like this," the proud owner explained, "you don't eat all at once!"

Question: What do you call a black Frenchman?

Answer: Jacques Custodian.

LIVE ON DEATH ROW

REPORT BY TOM W. KUNCL

THE LIVES THEY LIVED WERE CLOUDED BY DRUGS AND BRUTALITY. THE LIVES THEY TOOK ENDED IN MERCILESS VIOLENCE. SENTENCED TO DIE, WHY DO AMERICA'S KILLER FEMALES CHEAT THE PENALTY THEY SO RICHLY DESERVE?

They doused the still-conscious Plantz with gasoline, torching him like human firewood. Plantz attempted to crawl out of the pickup's flaming cab before his lungs, and life, burned to ashes.

The dreamy cloud of crack cocaine that white, Oklahoma housewife Marilyn Plantz inhaled rushed her on another imaginary journey to a small ranch somewhere in Texas, where Plantz imagined beginning a new life with the iron-muscled black teenager whose stomach she brushed as she reached to answer the bedside phone.

It was Marilyn's husband Jim calling. On his way home from his night's work at a printing plant in Oklahoma City, Jim Plantz wanted to know if he ought to pick up anything at the supermarket.

"No," answered his wife. "Just hurry home."

Unnoticed by family and friends, 28-year-old Marilyn Plantz had changed from the easygoing homemaker she appeared to be. Many evenings, while her husband worked his night job, Marilyn dropped off the kids with an obliging friend and cruised in her new Camaro to the rough, needle-park areas of Midwest City, Oklahoma. There the suburban housewife offered strapping young black men money, drugs and sex. In several cases, she promised to run away with a youth if he would help her dispose of her husband in order to obtain $300,000 in insurance money.

When unsuspecting Jim Plantz entered his home that late summer night in 1984, 18-year-old Cliff Bryson and his friend, Clint McKimble, attacked the innocent man with metal-ball bats Plantz had bought for his kids. After the young blacks beat her husband bloody—but failed to kill him—an angry Marilyn emerged from the bedroom where she had been hiding and cursed them for their clumsiness.

"Put him in his pickup," she barked. "Take him somewhere and set it on fire. Make it look like an accident, or the insurance company won't pay." The two teenagers obliged. On a remote county road they doused the still-conscious Plantz with gasoline, torching him like human firewood. According to coroner's investigators, Plantz attempted to crawl out of the pickup's flaming cab before his lungs, and life, burned to ashes.

What triggered the quiet, country housewife's murderous disposition may never be known. Marilyn Plantz chose not to testify at her trial, remaining silent even as the judge passed the death sentence the jury unanimously recommended. Marilyn Plantz has yet to face the fatal penalty the law decreed.

Recently divorced from a man she accused of being a drug addict, Debra Jean Milke developed an attraction to a handsome co-worker at the Phoenix, Arizona, insurance office where she worked as a file clerk. Fearing that this man might not return her affections because she was rearing a child—her four-year-old son, Chris—Milke decided to rid herself of the tot she believed stood in the way of her fantasy romance.

The young mother chose drifter Jim Styers to implement her deadly crime. Manipulated with small sexual favors from Milke and promises of more to come, on December 2, 1989, Styers and a friend told little Chris they were taking him to a mall to see Santa Claus. Instead, they drove far into the desert. After forcing little Chris Milke to his knees, Styers and his companion executed the boy with shots to the back of the head.

Debra Jean Milke informed authorities that her child had been kidnapped at the mall, but Styers's scared sidekick confessed to authorities. In Milke's purse was found a box of bullets that matched the gun that killed her boy—a souvenir of her son's execution.

In a letter penned to Styers from jail, Milke wrote: "A lot of the people in here don't seem to like me. I can't understand it."

Sentenced to death, Milke waits the ultimate punishment on Arizona's Death Row.

According to crime statistics, more than 2,000 females commit murder every year. Yet only a small fraction of women found guilty of murder receive the penalty of death, and the few women killers who are sentenced to be executed rarely face the ultimate punishment. Even when their crimes are calculated, grisly and cruel, there exists only a two per cent chance the fatal judgment will be carried out.

Higher courts routinely overturn death verdicts for women, reducing them to prison sentences, confirms Watt Espy of the Capital Punishment Research Project [CPRP]. According to Espy, women who do their own killing fare better with juries than those who seduce, or pay, someone else to do their bloody work: "When a woman kills a husband or a boyfriend, there is some part of the jury's collective mind that wants to believe he may have done something that brought it upon himself. Yet, when they have clearly killed for money, or hurt a child, the hearts of a jury can turn ice cold."

Helena

A woman is shown from the waist down, wearing a purple dress and purple stockings. She is sitting or lying down, with her legs spread apart. In the background, there is a large, ornate mirror with a gold frame. The mirror reflects the woman's legs and the purple stockings. The overall scene is dimly lit, with a focus on the purple color of the dress and stockings.

Reflections in a Pink Eye

"I've always wondered what men see in me," says Helena, placing a mirror on the floor before dressing up for a night of club-hopping. She kneels before the glass and gently parts the tender lips of her passionflower.

"It's so beautiful!" she gasps. "Like an exotic blossom found only in the deepest, virgin rain forests...."

With her forefinger, Helena tentatively strokes the petals. Out pops a glistening, baby bud, bouncing like light off the looking glass. "This is no reflection on the men I might have met tonight," swears Helena, "but I think I'll stay home after all."

Each of the victims had been stabbed, throats slit, shot, dragged behind and run over by the car. At least two of the oldsters were set on fire while still alive.

flicted under an autumn hunter's moon in 1986: her lesbian lover, Tina Powell. Heavy drug users, Foster and Powell customarily preyed on lonely, elderly men, from whom they wheedled and stole pension earnings.

Riding high on a five-day binge of crack and Jim Beam, Foster and Powell arrived at the Lexington, Kentucky, apartment where 73-year-old Carlos Kearns and his aged wife held daily open house for their elderly neighbors.

Foster and Powell herded five of the oldsters into Kearns's car, demanding Kearns cash a check to buy them booze. Enraged when Kearns could obtain only a small amount of money, Foster killed all five of the terrified friends one at a time, dumping the bodies at different spots around the city. Each of the victims had been stabbed, throats slit, shot, dragged behind and run over by the car. At least two of the oldsters were set on fire while still alive.

In court, Tina Powell claimed she was LaFonda's abused spouse, stating Foster would have killed her had she not helped with the killings. The jury accepted the story, and Powell's life was spared. The plea that LaFonda Foster made to the judge was not to be granted: Foster said she had come to know the error of her ways, and believed that, in prison, she could help rehabilitate other troubled young women: "I am a woman of 23 years who appreciates beauty, who cries at sad movies, who loves children and once had a dream of having a husband and children and a decent life," Foster pleaded.

The judge recalled testimony from a psychiatrist who had examined Foster while she waited trial. Asked how she felt about her victims, Foster scorned: "They were just old, pitiful people...they were useless."

Foster lives today, awaiting a deadly punishment that, according to statistical evidence, may never be carried out.

Tells Kika Marto, research director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's [NAACP] Legal Defense Fund: "Women charged with murder often have long histories of alcohol and drug abuse. Usually those addictions arose out of their violent or damaged childhood and later-life abuse at the hands of others. Frequently, their victim is addicted also, and some situation arises in which there is an overall loss of control."

Marto has no theories about why women who murder bring out a disposition to moderate the severity of punishment due. Since the enactment of new capital-punishment laws in the early 1970s, nearly 200 men have been executed, but only one woman.

Growing up in a broken Texas home, angel-faced Karla Faye Tucker found herself hooked on drugs at age 11, and started selling sexual favors, along with her older sister, at 13. From that time until womanhood, Tucker literally did not draw a sober breath, according to a psychiatric evaluation conducted at her murder trial.

When still a child, Tucker went off willingly with a roadie for a touring rock 'n' roll band, to be passed from bed to bed by rockers who kept her high in order to feast on her breathtaking young beauty. Upon arriving back home in Houston, she hooked up with a fast-talking troublemaker named Danny Garrett. To finance a gun buy, Garrett enlisted Tucker in his plot to rip off a biker named Jerry Lynn Dean, whom Garrett believed carried large amounts of cash. Strung out on heroin, Tucker and her boyfriend broke into Dean's apartment, surprising him and his girlfriend in bed.

When Dean sprang up to fight Danny Garrett, Karla Tucker rushed to the aid of her lover. Spying a heavy construction pickax, she grabbed it and rained blows on Dean. Within minutes he was dead beneath her bloody hands.

Drawn by the terrified whimpers of Dean's girlfriend, who was hiding beneath the bedsheets, Tucker turned the pickax on Debra Thornton, ripping flesh and breaking bones. Later Tucker would remember Thornton crying out for a strange mercy amid the savage assault: "If you are going to kill me," Thornton begged, "please hurry; this hurts terribly."

Tucker and Garrett bragged about their deadly deeds to a friend who snitched. After he informed the cops that Karla claimed killing her victims gave her the biggest sexual kick of her life, police wired the man and had him trick Tucker into repeating that damning admission.

"Did you really get off on killing Dean and his girlfriend?" the snitch asked the boastful killer.

"Hell, yes!" Tucker exclaimed into the hidden microphone recording her words.

At the summation of Tucker's murder trial, the prosecutor played the taped admission in a way that shocked the jury.

"Does Karla Faye Tucker deserve the death penalty?" the prosecutor asked the court, then punched on the tape recorder.

Amorous Abigail of Miami, Florida, finds it "very stimulating not to feel anything on my body." What a coincidence—we find it stimulating not to see anything on her body. The 25-year-old student likes to "dance, dance, dance" in her spare time, and claims her fantasy is "anytime, anywhere, not necessarily with a partner." Hey, it takes two to tango.

*Wish

All undressed with nowhere to go, lovely Denise has discovered a nude way to polish furniture. Dancing and shopping are this Pasadena, Maryland, bartender's two favorite activities. A 24-year-old dreamer, Denise wishes to live on a deserted, tropical island with her partner and make love forever.

What a pretty pussy! The cat's cute too. Ronda is a full-time mother, wife and student and part-time stripper, but still finds time for her hobbies of motorcycle riding and masturbating. The 25-year-old Emory, Virginia, resident would love to have sex with other women while her husband watches.

Tantalizing Tracy, a shiatsu therapist, shows readers the key point to which pressure should be applied. The 24-year-old Blaine, Washington, resident lists hiking, camping and oral sex as her favorite pastimes. Her fantasies are too many and varied to name, but they all entail "having as much cock on hand as possible." Is a cock in the hand worth two in the bush?

Her name is Luna, which is Italian for "moon"—anybody want to play Neil Armstrong? This 27-year-old maid from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, names "rock stars, sex underwear and virgin girlfriend" as her favorite hobbies and would like to do gratuitous nudity in a horror film where lawn ornaments come to life and kill. Luna's no lawn ornament, but she slays us.

Jacqueline, a realtor from Staatsburg, New York, demonstrates the correct way to do crunches. Besides aerobics, this 33-year-old bombshell maintains her terrific shape through weight-training and dancing. In her favorite fantasy, she'd have one cock in her mouth and another in her pussy. We know just the men to fill those positions.

HUNT MOTEL

When bodacious Barbara-Jean of Brockton, Massachusetts, isn't spending a quiet evening at home with a friend, she's out playing pool, working out or shopping. The 24-year-old secretary's ultimate fantasy is "to make love on a tropical beach all night long and finish by climaxing at the same time as he does." Last one off is a rotten egg.

De-lightful Dee of St. Clair Shores, Michigan, works as an assistant manager of a toy store—and we sure wouldn't mind her toying with us. The torrid 22-year-old bikes and in-line skates recreationally, but for real thrills, she fantasizes about fucking outside while people watch.

Brice was right to send Beaver Hunt her picture. Just 21, this happy homemaker from Rosamond, California, goes to the beach, swims, dances and fucks for fun. Beautiful Brice desires to make passionate love to her husband's best friend while her husband watches. That's what friends are for.

We wish every day could be Christmas—especially when we find gorgeous gifts like Roxy under our tree. A 27-year-old student from Toronto, Canada, randy Roxy likes to camp and hike, and she'd love to have a full-page spread in HUSTLER one day. Her naughty-but-nice fantasy involves Santa and all his elves. Oh come, all ye faithful.

Nature girl Nikki from Miami, Florida, dreams of spending time on a deserted island "loving her freedom, being nude and making love." The 29-year-old housewife's hobbies include dancing and working out, and she believes "enjoying life and being in your magazine is what it's all about!" We're happy to help in any way we can.

Once this second summer of love is over, Sydney will hopefully trade those beads in for a pearl necklace. A sales associate from Carrollton, Texas, the hot 33-year-old enjoys tanning, swimming and concerts in her spare time, and she fantasizes about fucking in a field in the middle of a rainstorm. See you at Wood-cock '94.

Slay Lady, Slay

After forcing objects into the dying woman's bleeding vagina, Janice took some of Parker's pretty clothes and underwear, in order to savor wearing them later.

"Hell, yes!" Tucker's voice echoed in the courtroom.

Young drifter Diedre Hunt landed in Florida after a string of bad brushes with the law.

Growing up in hardscrabble, northeast mill towns, Hunt had been raped at 11, was often beaten by her mother, and had been abandoned by a father who told her he wanted nothing to do with her.

Married, ex-waiter Kosta Fotopoulos had enjoyed snowing pretty teenage run-aways with wild tales ever since he became manager of Top Shots, a sleazy pool hall along Florida's Daytona Beach boardwalk. Fotopoulos hired Diedre Hunt as a waitress on sight, and supplied her with a small apartment, where he visited her often for lovemaking.

Admitting he wanted his wife killed in order to collect insurance money, Fotopoulos asked Diedre Hunt to recruit potential assassins from among the young, male admirers she'd garnered at the pool hall. Desperately in love with Fotopoulos, Diedre chose teenager Mark Ramsey, telling the boy he first needed to prove his courage through an initiation in the pinewoods. Ramsey agreed.

Told that bullets would be fired in his direction to test his courage, Ramsey was tied to a tree. While Fotopoulos recorded the scene on a video camera, Hunt shot Ramsey in the chest from a distance, then strode to where he was tied, jerked his slumped head from his chest and fired another round into his brain.

Although copiously praised by her lover for her violent obeisance, Diedre Hunt waited weeks before agreeing to find a second stooge, who would commit the murder of Fotopoulos's wife. Fotopoulos's plan seemed foolproof. After entering the Fotopoulos home as though he were a burglar, the assassin would shoot the unsuspecting wife as she slept in her bed. Unknown to the stooge, however, there was a heinous secret in the plot: Hiding in the house would be Fotopoulos, waiting to kill the intruder in a pretended act of self-defense.

Chosen as the killer/victim, 18-year-old Brian Chase received a kiss from Diedre Hunt when she left him near the Fotopoulos house on the designated night.

Although carefully planned, the murder attempt was botched. Fotopoulos's wife survived and immediately suspected her husband. Friends of Brian Chase from the pool hall guessed what had happened and reported their suspicions to authorities. Finally Diedre Hunt confessed, hoping to cut a deal that would spare her a trip to Florida's electric chair. She wasn't so lucky. The grisly video of her cold-blooded murder of Mark Ramsey—confiscated by authorities—sealed her doom. Found guilty of murder, Diedre Hunt was sentenced to die. Today she awaits the execution mandated by law.

Since plump, homely, 17-year-old Janice Buttrum admitted she desired to have sex with other women, Buttrum's 29-year-old husband, Danny, a dim-witted man possessing an IQ of less than 70, approached women on his wife's behalf, but was seldom able to arrange the kinds of affairs that Janice demanded: Janice sought to humiliate and torture a young woman prior to having sexual relations.

On a trip to Dalton, Georgia, Danny and Janice Buttrum stayed at an inexpensive motel near the interstate with their toddler son. In the room next door, pretty young Demetra Parker had taken lodging while working a summer job to earn money for college tuition. Janice Buttrum could not take her eyes from the dark-haired, dark-eyed Parker. When she found that Parker loved to pick up and cuddle Buttrum's child, Janice was certain she could use her son to forge a bond with Parker that could be parlayed into a sexual seduction.

When it became clear Parker had no affectionate leaning toward Buttrum, a night of heavy drinking made Janice brood about what she considered Parker's snobbishness. "The bitch thinks she's too good for us," Janice Buttrum told her husband. "Tonight we're going to show her."

Answering an unexpected knock on her door, Demetra Parker smiled when she saw Janice Buttrum holding her little boy. Parker's delight turned to horror when, with lunging force, Danny Buttrum seized her, threw her on the bed, then stripped her. As Janice Buttrum watched smiling, waiting her turn, Danny Buttrum raped and sodomized Demetra Parker.

When her husband rolled away from Parker's sobbing, bruised figure, Janice Buttrum plunged a knife into Parker's breasts and genitals more than 60 times. With a sharp jackknife, Buttrum then slashed and cut into Parker's abdomen, opening the helpless girl in slaughterhouse fashion. After forcing objects into the dying woman's bleeding vagina, Janice took some of Parker's pretty clothes and underwear, in order to savor wearing them later.

The girls can come along. It's still early: 4 a.m. La ruta de bolingas (The route of fucked-up drunks) is far from its incoherent end.

When El Pais, Spain's dominant newspaper, reported Malasaña as a "happening" spot, local bands were touted ("Could This Be the Next Seattle?"), and the celebrated name of Pedro Almodovar, Spain's most-recent famous filmmaker and former Malasañero, invoked. Smack-dab in the middle of the newspaper feature stood a picture of big, fat Quique and his Supper Stars.

Formerly afraid, now intrigued by Malasaña's sordid chic, new faces poured into the barrio. Money flowed freely at the seediest bars in town; television news crews picked the streets for local color. Quique could be found wherever the cameras were. Every night for a week his fat ass made the news.

"My name is Quique," he sputtered to the entire country. "I ruin you!"

They came; they saw; they were ruined. But the newly arrived scene-makers and slummers couldn't keep up Quique's coke-fueled pace. In a fortnight the Malasaña scene returned to normal—crowded and ugly, the most depraved, slum barstrip in the world.

At 6 a.m. in El Bar Sin Nombre (Bar Without a Name), cokeheads and off-duty strippers mingle with species indigenous to bars that stay open until 10 a.m. The Sub Poppers are fading. They have drank and snorted and had their dicks sucked, but the supply of booze, drugs and girls is far from exhausted. Not without pride, they attempt to rally.

Bleary-eyed, they find themselves without sunglasses. Leaving a bar at 7 a.m. without shades is more dangerous than sticking it to Johnny Thunders's self-proclaimed ex-wife without a rubber. There is only one thing to do: have another drink. The girls want to go dancing. The discos are just filling up; the bars, just getting ready to close.

The sun already burning, the band follows the girls blindly out the door. The King of Malasaña looks after them contentedly. Successfully "ruined," they'll have a hangover to tell the grandkids about.

Stumbling into the street, Quique forces Ray Bans onto his face. The bartender from the El Bar Sin Nombre screams after him, fed up with self-styled royalty not paying for a goddamn thing. The King does not turn back. He is going home to eat a ham. Like a man. A good night's "ruin" always gives him an appetite.

Lawyers argued that Janice Buttrum suffered from psychotic sex urges she could not control, and was therefore not guilty by reason of insanity. The jury decided otherwise, sentencing the sadistic killer to death.

Danny Buttrum hung himself with bed-sheets in his jail cell, leaving behind a note that vowed his love of Janice for eternity. Janice Buttrum has not yet faced the punishment meted for her crime.

More than 2,500 men crowd America's death rows. Only 33 women await the same fate a jury decreed and a judge imposed.

According to Professor Victor Streib of the Cleveland State School of Law, female murderers, for the most part, match the behavioral and sociological profiles of men who murder. Streib's research does not answer the question of why juries seem to view female killers differently when they deliberate marking the death ballot. Perhaps, theorizes Streib, it is due to the fact that in the normal course of things, society does not expect violence from women, associating them with gentle, nurturing qualities, not murderous rage.

"It may be that [admitting women can kill] frightens us in some very deep way we aren't fully able to understand," Professor Streib says. "No state seems to be rushing to execute a woman at present," says Kika Marto. "Something about the idea of executing a woman seems to horrify people."

In September 1980, practical nurse Velma Barfield chose poison to kill elderly pensioners under her care. Barfield's victims tended to expire when they discovered she had been cashing their pension checks or forging their names to loans. Barfield's favorite method of death-dealing was a nicely chilled bottle of beer spiked with ant poison.

Velma told police she believed she had done her aged victims a good deed by taking their lives: "I loved them and helped them go to their final reward," she said. On November 2, 1984, Velma Barfield became the first woman executed since Elizabeth Duncan, put to death in California, August 1962. She went to her death in the quiet, cheerful way that had marked all of her life. "I have no fear of meeting my Savior," Barfield told the warden as she stepped into the gas chamber, to die of poison herself.

Tom Kuncl, author of Death Row Women (Pocket Books), prepared this article especially for HUSTLER.

THE BEST PUMP AND INSTRUCTIONAL VIDEO AND MAGAZINE!

PENIS ENLARGEMENT SUCCESSFUL RESULTS for 20 years with more than 3 million men!!

SEE
BELOW

INCREASES UP TO 3 INCHES!
ERECT MEASUREMENTS UP TO 12
INCHES OR YOUR MAXIMUM POTENTIAL!

To reach your maximum potential you must have the BEST Pump... the BEST Instructional Video or magazine... and one more bonus: THE BEST PRICE!

Use the pump that's used by more XXX video stars for peak performance!

WHAT IS THE BEST PUMP?

First of all, a quality pump constructed of the finest materials tested and tried and used successfully for over 20 years. Our pump will give your penis increases in length and diameter you've never dreamed possible. Up to 10 inches, even 12 inches... or your maximum potential. And you'll see this dramatic increase in size grow right before your very eyes through the clear view housing!

OUR PUMP IS THE SAME TYPE OF PUMP PRESCRIBED BY DOCTORS THAT SELL UPWARDS OF $500 TO HELP MEN PRODUCE AN INSTANT, DYNAMIC, ROCK-HARD, THROBBING ERECTION!

THE BEST STEP-BY-STEP INSTRUCTIONAL VIDEO AND MAGAZINE!

Okay... suppose you do have the BEST pump money can buy- but now what do you do with it? Do you know how to use it properly? This is important! Our BEST instructional video tape and magazine shows you, step-by-step, how to harness the energy of our powerful penis enlarger- and we do mean POWERFUL! Much more than any pump available at any price! The BEST instructional video tape and magazine are easy to follow and guarantees you will understand how to use our pump. They were produced for the sole purpose of ensuring your immediate success with a longer, thicker, harder penis.

From the moment you begin using our penis enlarger you can expect dramatic increases up to 3 inches, and reach your maximum potential with a rock-hard, throbbing penis that will allow you to penetrate your sex partner deeper than ever before!

Used by men of any age, any height or weight- for a longer, thicker, harder penis.

HOW ABOUT THE PRICE?

Let's face it, when you decide to purchase an effective penis enlargement pump to increase the size of your penis, the most important thing to you is the quality of the pump itself. So while instruction in its correct use- through a video or magazine- is important, the cost of the tape is still less than that of the high quality pump that we're offering. Ask yourself how other companies can charge $25 or more for their package... and $20 of that price is for the tape! Does that mean you're going to trust your penis to the quality of a $5 PUMP?! Do yourself a favor, don't take chances. Our pump is the BEST available, and that's why we're almost giving the tape (or magazine) away to prove it! We want you to enjoy every potential of your sex life... not ruin it with a $5 pump. We think you'll agree with us that our system is the only one you can feel confident with. We wouldn't sell it if it wasn't. Remember, we offer successful results for 20 years with more than 3 million men!

CAUTION: We do not offer an electric model. Electricity with liquid, gels or perspiration should not be used together. You need superior stroking action to increase penis size, not an ordinary vibrating massage unit.

AFTER MORE THAN 20 YEARS... THE ORIGINAL SUPRA-12

PENIS ENLARGER

YOU CAN ENLARGE, THICKEN & HARDEN YOUR PENIS TO IT'S MAXIMUM! HAVE ERECT MEASUREMENTS OF 9, 10, EVEN 12 FULL INCHES!

Is the size of your penis bringing you down? Want to "hang out" where the big boys do? In the neighborhood of nine, ten, eleven inches or more? Then wrap your fist around this hot new package offer which includes the very latest in vacuum pump design and the world's first "personal trainer" video on penis enlargement!

DESIRE IS NOT ENOUGH

The world is literally full of men who have tried to increase their genital measurements — and have failed miserably. The secret of success lies in personal professional instruction such as that supplied by our SUPRA-12 SYSTEM. Here in step-by-step easy to see and understand techniques you will be guided on the path to success! Now, with a simple device you can follow in the footsteps of over 3 million men who have proven that there is a way to INCREASE PENIS SIZE and THICKNESS! A safe and proven natural way to add inches to penis length and thickness.

HOW CAN THE SUPRA-12 VACUUM ENLARGER INCREASE PENIS LENGTH & THICKNESS?

The male erection results from the flow of blood (triggered by stimulation) into hollow chambers inside the penis. As these chambers fill, the penis grows in diameter and length until the chambers are filled to capacity. By increasing the capacity of these chambers (making them bigger), they can hold more blood and the result will be a LONGER, THICKER PENIS. The SUPRA-12 Vacuum Enlarger is the very zenith of technical perfection — the latest in design and comfort — nothing short of "miraculous" in the way they allow you to ACTUALLY SEE YOUR OWN PENIS grow inside the clear, picture window sleeve. Immediately you'll see just how really BIG... how really FAT... how LONG... how HARD and STIFF your own penis can get!

SUPRA-12, THE "ROLLS ROYCE" OF VACUUM ENLARGERS.

These sophisticated instruments are by far the state of the art in penis enhancing machinery. The HEAVY DUTY MANUAL model is a finely crafted precision instrument designed to create the vacuum needed to make the male organ LONG and THICKER. And for the connoisseur, the powerful ULTRA DELUXE ELECTRIC model (U.L. approved) is equipped to give you continuous even sucking power until you shut it off! The ULTRA DELUXE ELECTRIC is perfectly safe and as quiet as a whisper.

Accept no substitutes!

YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF... TO YOUR SEX PARTNER... TO YOUR SELF-ESTEEM... JOIN THE COUNTLESS OTHER MEN WHO STARTED OUT "AVERAGE" OR "BELOW AVERAGE", AND LEARNED ALL ABOUT MAKING A "BIG" IMPROVEMENT IN THEIR SEX LIVES!!

NEW, IMPROVED ELECTRIC MODEL

Plug-in electric pump provides constant vacuum you control! Complete vacuum occurs gradually for safety and provides relentless vacuum without any physical effort. Ultimate in vacuum pump luxury!

THE QUALITY REMAINS LONG AFTER THE PRICE IS FORGOTTEN.

3. The only pump made with our exclusive (patent pending) SUPRA-VALVE... for superior vacuum and suction.

BEFORE AFTER

SCOTT TAYLOR TAKES YOU STEP-BY-STEP AND SHOWS YOU HOW TO ENLARGE YOUR PENIS!

He'll show you what phenomenal increases he has made in both the length and diameter of his penis. See photos above. This video tape is a full color, detailed, step-by-step explanation by Scott of what you need to know to increase your own genital size. FULL DEMONSTRATION BEFORE YOUR EYES! ANSWER ALL YOUR QUESTIONS!

- ★ Find out exactly what is happening to your penis to make it grow longer and thicker!
- ★ Discover what the enlargement process really feels like!
- ★ Find out how big you can expect your penis to get!

NEXT MONTH IN HUSTLER

January HUSTLER on sale November 22, 1994

BIG PUSH

HUSTLER busts into January with six of the slammiest slots ever picked, slicked and stuck on a page. Smack over the sun-soaked buns of a tail-wagging tropical blonde hitting peaks of pleasure in a velvet-petaled lei; shimmy up to the sweet and sultry nooks of a bed-bound brunette making hosiery history by shooting sparks of thigh-riding friction; bite into a big-titted beauty whose bare bottom shines with a just-whacked bush; tug a ring-pierced belly button and break into the mirror-image cravings of twin golden-maned Hollywood starlets; and tackle a Harlowesque white-trash harlot before she wets her lips on a lumberjack's meat-axe in the Oregon wilderness. HUSTLER in January is a first-round KO: knockers out. Take a swing.

THAI ONE ON

Despite what the narrow-minded U.S. media would have Americans believe, most of the venues for carnal pursuits in the Southeast Asian paradise of Thailand offer a mutually gratifying, guiltless pay-for-play foray. Accessible and amenable to Western tourists, Bangkok is the capital of bangs-for-bucks bargirls. Adventurers who've got a yen for a beautiful country, hospitable people, affordable travel and legitimate, numerous and versatile sex-for-sale services can take tips from writer Hazel Mavridis, who goes down East to map the retail tail in the Land of Southern Smiles in Yum for Sum—an indispensable trim-tourist's guide, courtesy of HUSTLER.

MIND BLOWER

The invention of the electroencephalograph—an apparatus for detecting and recording electrical brain waves—in the early part of the century offered brain docs a key to unlock the mysteries of the body's pivotal organ of thought and personality. The newfound electrical pattern to brain function also opened a monstrous Pandora's box: possible radio control of the mind. A must-read for every so-called thinker, Hearing "Voices": The Hidden History of the CIA's Electromagnetic Mind-Control Experiments, by writer Alex Constantine, concludes that controlling human behavior by remote radio transmission isn't science fiction—it's a fact. After years of secret experiments, the U.S. government has achieved its goal: breaking and entering American minds at will.

TOP IT OFF

Feedback gives the voices of HUSTLER readers equal time; Sex Play gets the dirty minds of womankind in writing; Erotic Entertainment marks pink screen moaners and groaners with boners; Beaver Hunt showcases the ladies who share; and Bits & Pieces slaps a smile on every straight face. HUSTLER in January starts the new year with plenty of bangs. Stick with us.
